

Senators Probe Reprisal Threats Laid To Stevens

By Ed Creagh

Washington (AP) — In an atmosphere of ever-growing bitterness, the Senate's McCarthy-Pentagon investigators began delving yesterday into whether Secretary of the Army Stevens "threatened reprisals" against a general for praising and cooperating with Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.).

This new line of inquiry developed near the end of a hectic day punctuated by irate exchanges between McCarthy and opponents—especially over new Army charges of de luxe treatment for a drafted aide of the Senator, Pvt. G. David Schine.

The language got inflamed at that point. McCarthy cried "smear!" and called the televised hearings a "circus." Later he accused Stevens of "flagrant dishonesty," and the usually mild-mannered Army secretary flared back: "I deeply resent the suggestion."

McCarthy tangled, too, with Asst. Secretary of Defense H. Struve Hensel, protesting the number of generals surrounding Hensel in the hearing room and contending such high officers should not "dignify" the Pentagon official.

Reddening, the six-foot-four Hensel reared up and demanded—but did not get—an apology, Hensel—like Stevens and Army Counsel John G. Adams—is a key figure of the Pentagon side in its row with McCarthy and aides Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr.

Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel to the Senate Investigations subcommittee, brought up the question of "threatened reprisals," naming Maj. Gen. Kirke Lawton, commander of the Army Signal Corps Center at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., as the general involved.

Jenkins announced he proposed to read Lawton's testimony at a secret subcommittee hearing last Oct. 14 on the subject of alleged Communist infiltration at Ft. Monmouth and its radar laboratories. He said he would do this in preparation for cross-examining Stevens on whether "he did or did not threaten reprisals against Gen. Lawton" because Lawton cooperated and "complimented" McCarthy and his subcommittee.

Democratic Senators Symington (Mo) and McClellan (Ark) objected to this testimony being made public before they had a chance to read it, so the hearing recessed overnight with the question of admitting it still in the air.

Stevens testified he "had a talk with" Lawton, and discussed the possibility of removing him, as a result of an address the general gave to Ft. Monmouth officers—to the effect that soldiers with pro-Communist leanings seem to come from a certain eight or 10 colleges.

The Army secretary, on the witness stand for the fifth day, said he was somewhat "agitated" about this—felt such remarks were beyond the scope of a post commander.

Under cross-examination by Jenkins, he said he discussed the matter with Maj. George Back, Army Signal Corps chief.

Jenkins wanted to know if Stevens told Back he didn't like Lawton's favorable attitude toward the McCarthy subcommittee.

Stevens replied he couldn't remember just what he said to Back. But asked if he knew Lawton had been cooperating with the McCarthy probes, the Army secretary said:

"I certainly did. I ordered him to do so."

Before the day ended McCarthy tangled with subcommittee Democrats, with the GOP acting chairman and even with the firm-handed Jenkins, as well as with Stevens and Hensel.

As for Hensel, the Wisconsin senator said it bothered him to see generals with outstanding combat records sitting with a man who has been accused of "let's put it this way—personal irregularities."

McCarthy has charged Hensel received profits from a private ship's supply firm while holding high Navy posts in World War Two. Hensel said any charge he was guilty of illegal or unethical conduct was a "malicious lie."

A number of spectators applauded when the husky Pentagon official called McCarthy's remarks yesterday "uncalled for" and demanded an apology. As he has done before, Acting Chairman Mundt (R-S.D.) warned against demonstrations.

Hensel pressed his demand, shouting "I'm serious."

Mundt said he had no power to make anyone apologize.

"You could request one, sir," Hensel snapped.

Stevens' counsel, Joseph N. Welch, smoothed over the set-to, saying it was "child's play" to wrangle about seating arrangements.

McCarthy also had a head-on clash with Mundt, who said something would have to be done about McCarthy's interrupting the proceedings with "points of order" which turn out to be speeches.

McCarthy retorted: "I do intend to interrupt whenever I find flagrant dishonesty on the part of a witness."

Stevens, who was testifying at that point, sharply protested the remark.

Pocked Auto Windshields Laid To Blast

East Lansing, Mich. (AP) — The recent rash of pocked windshields across the country could have been caused by the H-bomb explosion in the Pacific, a Michigan Highway Department research engineer said yesterday.

Bryant W. Pocock, head of the isotope section of the state Highway Department research laboratory, said by-products of the H-bomb blast could damage the windshields without leaving traces of radioactivity.

The research engineer said the marks could be caused chemically by a substance which would affect the glass. He said the substance could be hydrofluoric acid, which is the only known substance to have a direct effect on glass.

Pocock said non-radioactive fluoride would be one of the by-products of an H-bomb explosion. Water vapor reacts on the fluoride to form hydrofluoric acid, he said.

Auto Industry Being Studied For Collusion

New York (AP) — Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell said last night the Justice Department is concerned about possible antitrust collusion in the multi-million dollar auto industry.

In a speech for the Economic Club of New York, he added: "We know well that increasing concentration in an important industry contains dangerous potentials."

"We want to find out whether this pattern is nothing more than the consequence of competitive forces freely at work, or whether any one or more of the facts which amount to collusion or the suppression of competition has been at work."

The Justice Department's Anti-Trust Division has expressed concern with the growing concentration of production in the hands of a few big companies with a resultant shrinkage in business among the so-called independent motor firms.

Seven Wounded

San Diego, Calif. (AP) — Seven persons were wounded, two seriously, in a gun battle yesterday between an unemployed aircraft worker and scores of police officers.

Hensel pressed his demand, shouting "I'm serious."

Mundt said he had no power to make anyone apologize.

"You could request one, sir," Hensel snapped.

Stevens' counsel, Joseph N. Welch, smoothed over the set-to, saying it was "child's play" to wrangle about seating arrangements.

Red China Hits U.S. Policy In Far East At Conference

By Lynn Heinzerling

Geneva (AP) — Red China's Premier Chou En-lai, admitted to the councils of the world's major powers for the first time, yesterday rejected American policy in the Far East. He called for a program of "Asia for the Asians" with foreign troops and bases banned.

Chou spoke at the 19-nation Far Eastern conference after U. S. Secretary of State Dulles rejected North Korea's proposals for all Korean elections on the ground they would transform the country into a Communist puppet state.

Outside the conference hall work progressed on first steps toward halting bloodshed in Indochina. Russia suggested an immediate meeting of belligerents on the evacuation of "hundreds upon hundreds" of French wounded from besieged Dien Bien Phu.

The Soviet Union proposed also that representatives of the Communist-led Vietnam be admitted to the Geneva conference when it takes up the question of a peace settlement for Indochina.

In a bitter denunciation of the West, Chou ranged over a wide field. He demanded a standing alongside the Big Four, opposed rearmament of Western Germany and even demanded a ban on the H-bomb.

He supported the proposals laid down Tuesday by North Korea's Gen. Nam Il for settling the Korean problem. Chou's speech indicated little could be expected at Geneva on a Korean settlement.

"For the first time, the Chinese people are the real masters of their fate," he said. "No force can or will prevent China from becoming strong and prosperous."

Although 20 nations with a population of one billion recognize China, he said, the United States has withheld recognition "because it dreams of establishing the remnants of the Kuomintang clique (Nationalist China), long ago thrown out of China by the people."

Chou said U. S. policy in the Far East is aimed at creating an aggressive bloc and that this is the main source of tension in Asia. The Korean war, he contended, was planned by the United States "as a springboard for aggression against China."

He accused the United States of dragging out the truce negotiations on the pretext of concern for war prisoners and said 48,000 Red prisoners had been retained.

Dulles, in his first address to the conference, practically wrote off the possibility of making progress here on the Korean question in the light of Nam Il's proposals.

Referring to Nam Il's plan that all foreign troops be withdrawn, he said:

"The United States does not desire its troops to remain indefinitely in Korea. But we remember that once before we had our troops in Korea and withdrew them, as it turned out, prematurely."

Dulles said a U. N. commission is standing by to take up the work of unifying Korea under directives from the U. N. General Assembly.

Twin Boroughs Cooperating In Spring Cleanup

Spring clean-up collections in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg start today.

All residents have to do is to place refuse—except garbage—in containers and put it out at the curb at an early hour today.

Collections will be made today, tomorrow and Saturday, but refuse should be assembled and put out today so patrolling borough trucks can pick it up. This is a "once-and-done" project sponsored by the two Borough Councils.

Nasser Orders Arrest Of 52 In Red Plot

Cairo, Egypt (AP) — In swift pre-dawn raids squads of Egyptian military police arrested 52 army officers and 40 civilians yesterday on charges of conspiring with Communists to promote May Day riots.

The police acted on direct orders of Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, Egypt's strong man Premier. A spokesman for Nasser said the action, taken after a lengthy meeting of the ruling Revolutionary Council, was aimed at purging the army of "dissident elements."

Among the 12 officers were nine who had opposed Nasser last February when he removed Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib as President and Premier. The nine had been arrested then on charges of engaging in Communist activities, but released a short time later.

Naguib was restored to power as Premier and President for a while, but Nasser emerged as undisputed No. 1 man 10 days ago when he took over the premiership from the ailing Naguib, who retains his title as President.

Russia Reported To Have 22 Divisions In Germany

Washington (AP) — Washington heard last night that Russia has a ready-made spearhead of 22 divisions, most of them armored outfits, spotted in Germany where they could advance into Western Europe.

Within 30 days of the jump-off on any such attack, Soviet and satellite countries could muster 400 divisions, it was stated. The total of Western European divisions is placed at over six million, of whom about 4 1/2 million are in ground armies.

The Soviet Union's 20,000-plane fleet of fighters, battlefield bombers and heavy bombers is being converted swiftly into a deadly and completely modern jet force.

This new assessment of Communist military power came from informed diplomatic officials who may not be identified otherwise. It became available coincidentally with an hour-long White House conference of President Eisenhower and Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who reached Washington Tuesday from Europe. There he talked with British Prime Minister Churchill and others.

Arranged against this Communist strength are about 100 divisions available to the Supreme Command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces, with about 2,000 planes in condition to fight immediately. These latter figures were disclosed recently by Gen. J. Lawton Collins, V. S., representative on the military committee of NATO.

But the United States still remains far ahead of Russia in air power, Rep. Schriver (R-Kan.) told the House yesterday during debate on a military appropriation bill. Schriver is chairman of an appropriations subcommittee that handles Air Force funds.

Compared to Russia's 20,000 planes, he said, this country has 21,000 in its Air Force alone, and another 10,000 assigned to the Navy and Marines.

"Our planes are superior in quality, our pilots are surpassed by none in skill and courage" and "our production capacity exceeds that of the Soviet," he said.

The summary of Soviet and satellite strength made plain that Communist power is mounting not only offensively but in defense against air strikes which the United States has promised in event of a Russian attack.

3 Districts Would Unite Under Plan

Stroudsburg, Stroud and Delaware Water Gap school directors agreed last night to vote on a union district resolution at their May meetings.

The agreement was reached in a combined meeting held at Clearview School with Stroud board members as hosts for the dinner.

Such a resolution would state that the union question should be placed before voters of the three districts in the next general election. If each of the boards approves the resolution, county commissioners will then be asked to place the question on ballots in time for the November election.

Decision to take separate board votes during their May meetings was made following a financial report and a projection of the advantages of union to all three districts.

A projected study of costs and appropriated funds was prepared by Herbert Crane, president of the Stroudsburg school board. The Crane report is based entirely upon currently available totals contained in the proposed budgets of the three individual districts.

Union districting, the report indicated, would have an effect on taxation, the ratio of assessed value to market value of real estate in all three districts and the cost of education.

Taxation—based on proposed budgets submitted by the three districts—would be lowered by formation of union districting, the report indicates. This would not be an immediate step, but would be forthcoming as the union operates, Crane said.

One immediate result of the union, the report says, would be "uniformity of taxes in all three districts." In two cases this would mean a lowering of per capita tax and real estate tax millage.

At present Stroudsburg's millage is 33 per thousand dollars of assessed value; Stroud's is the maximum 35 mills and Delaware Water Gap's is 29 mills per thousand.

Under the union, the report says, the uniform real estate tax would be 29 mills per thousand—down 6 mills for Stroudsburg; down 6 mills for Stroud.

Under the proposed union district assessments would be based on a uniform 25.29 percent of market value ratio.

Following are the present ratios between assessed and market valuation in the three districts individually: Stroudsburg — 26.53 percent; Stroud—21.72 percent; Delaware Water Gap—31.31 percent.

At the same time, however, the report continues, reimbursement fraction (on which State appropriations are based) for the union district would be 61.41 percent.

Separately the boards now have the following fractions: Stroudsburg—54.97 percent; Stroud—69.83; Delaware Water Gap—68.59 percent.

The report concludes with a comparison of budget totals under the present three-district system and the projected costs under a single, union district.

According to the report, Delaware Water Gap's 1954-55 budget calls for expenditures of $21,115; Stroud's calls for $204,142.41 in costs and Stroudsburg's budget is set at $406,578.68 as proposed by the districts.

These three budgets total $631,836.09. Costs under the union district system would total about $566,606.09 the report indicates. This would be $65,230 lower than the combined costs operating under separate budgets.

The report emphasizes, however, that these totals are based solely upon the supposition that the three districts would operate with the same needs under union, at least temporarily, as they now propose to do under separate districting.

Biggest item contributing to lower cost in the union would be an increase in State-paid appropriations.

Under the present single-district operation total State appropriations will amount to $193,617.66 the report says.

Under union districting—because of a difference in State payments per teaching unit—a total of $229,427.26 would be received from the State.

Union would mean, also that neither Stroud nor Delaware Water Gap would be paying tuition to Stroudsburg for the education of secondary students. Instead each of the three districts would share in the cost of instruction and building maintenance for the high school all three shared.

The advantages of union from the educational standpoint were discussed by Earl E. Groner, Stroudsburg school superintendent.

French Repel Rebel Attempts To Take Fort

Hanoi, Indochina (AP) — French troops yesterday hammered back attempts by Vietminh rebels to crack Western barricades within 600 yards of the command headquarters of besieged Dien Bien Phu.

The Communist-led rebels were increasing their pressure also on Dien Bien Phu's southernmost strongpoint—three miles from the center of the fortress and cut off from road communication with it.

There was no estimate of the forces involved in clashes at either point, or any announcement on casualties. Earlier the French said their patrols killed 25 Vietminh and captured one in brief forays to test enemy strength.

U.S. Striving To Avoid War, Nixon Reports

Washington (AP) — Vice President Nixon said yesterday U. S. foreign policy has spelled out a warning to Russia and Red China that if they march into Indochina they "run the risk that the United States would retaliate directly against them."

Nixon told the U. S. Chamber of Commerce that is what is meant by the policy set up by Secretary of State Dulles of relying "primarily, though not exclusively, on a massive retaliatory attack, at times and places of our own choosing, in reply to any new aggression."

But Nixon assured the gathering of some 3,000 American business leaders that the Eisenhower administration will avoid "if we can" sending U. S. troops "to fight in Indochina or anywhere else in the world."

That is the administration's major aim, he said.

Nixon emphasized, however, that the administration will not resort to "a policy of weakness or inconsistency" to achieve its aim.

The vice president's implied warning to Russia and Red China against direct intervention in Indochina came against a background of Far East reports suggesting that Communist China may be moving to extend her grasp on Southeast Asia.

Roberts Given Life Sentence

Wilkes-Barre (AP) — Luzerne County Judge J. Harold Flannery yesterday sentenced Jonah Roberts of Edwinstown to life imprisonment for murdering his wife in June, 1952.

Roberts, 47, had pleaded innocent to the charge but was convicted by a jury last year. Roberts blamed two hitchhikers as the alleged killers.

The prosecution claimed Roberts killed his wife because he loved another woman.

Former Warnertown Village And Lake Transferred To Mulligans In $40,000 Deal

Tobyhanna—A 99-acre lake and 309 acres of land surrounding it have been bought here by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Mulligan.

Deed to the property was recorded yesterday at the office of Floyd Butz.

Mr. and Mrs. Mulligan paid Tobyhanna Creek Ice Co. $40,000 for the property, according to the deed.

The land includes all of the former village known as Warnertown, which flourished in the days when the lake furnished a living to scores of ice-cutters.

Ice was cut and sold commercially from the lake up to two years ago. Negotiations between the Mulligans and the ice company have gone on about a year.

The property is accessible by Route 490, and is surrounded by State Game lands, Mulligan said.

The Mulligans plan to start developing the land and lake into a resort, the new owner said last night. Mulligan said he plans to build a hotel to accommodate 150 guests, then build motel-type cabins and cottages in addition. The purchase included 1,800,000 feet of lumber now stored in an ice house on the property, Mulligan said, and this will be used for building.

A former boarding house and about 10 other buildings on the grounds can be converted to cottages, Mulligan said. He plans to start work immediately. First step will be clearing and bulldozing the lake, he said.

In the negotiations, Mulligans were represented by Charles R. Bensinger Jr., of Stroudsburg. William Scott, Lansford, represented the Summit Hill Trust Co.

Mrs. Adan Bohner

Mrs. Richard Bartholomew of Sciota, N.Y., is visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Adan Bohner.

Recent weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilmoth were Mr. and Mrs. Evan Hensley and daughter, of Wilmington, Del., Milton Wilmoth, of New Carlisle, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Newswanger, of Cranford, N.J.; Mrs. Cora Price, of Elkins, W. Va., and Mrs. Leona Sarber, of Belleville, N.J.

Lynn Bartholomew, who is visiting her grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Adan Bohner, celebrated her third birthday on Wednesday. Several friends helped to celebrate the occasion: Dora Borger, Pamie VanWhy, Becky Christian, of East Stroudsburg, Marlette Borger, Richard and Roger Horton, Ann and Alan Bartholomew.

Kunkletown Volunteer Fire Co. has purchased a new fire siren. It was installed on Tuesday night and tested. Residents at the community became alarmed, it was reported, thinking it was an alert air raid alarm.

$65 Donated To Couple To Aid Rebuilding

Friends and neighbors had contributed $65 by yesterday to a trust fund to aid Mr. and Mrs. Paul George rebuild the Franklin Hill house destroyed in a fire Saturday night.

To the Georges and their three youngsters, the uninsured home represented seven years of work. The house was almost finished when fire of undetermined origin turned it to ashes.

A striking demonstration of neighborliness followed almost at once: on Sunday area residents contributed clothing, household goods and furniture to the Georges under the guidance of Smithfield PTA and Home Room Mothers organization.

The George Trust was established to solicit funds to help the unlucky couple rebuild their home. Checks were sought by the committee headed by Neldon Overfield, PTA president.

A bulldozer operator was at the site of the burned-down house yesterday, starting to clear debris and rubble. When he had finished his job he told the Georges there would be no charge for the work. Instead—he gave them a $10 bill toward the new house.

Emma VanWhy at Bushkill and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Christian and Samuel Schreck at East Stroudsburg. Mr. Schreck, Mrs. VanWhy's father, has been ill for several weeks. Becky Christian came back with Mr. and Mrs. VanWhy for several days.

Mrs. Elsie Derhammer, Mrs. Alma Derhammer and Gordon Nicholas spent Easter Sunday at Bethlehem with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Smith and family.

Fire-Chasing Menace

The practice of racing fire fighting equipment to the scene of a fire has reached the point where efforts of fire companies to save lives and property are dangerously hampered.

Officers and members of Monroe County Firemen's Association are deeply concerned about the situation.

The wail of a fire siren, and the clanging of a bell on the fire truck, are not signals for start of a race between local citizenry and firemen to the scene of a fire.

These sounds mean that trained men with best available equipment are moving to save property and lives. It means that all of us are to pull our cars aside until men and equipment have passed and then move on about our business—not the firemen's business.

All volunteer firemen in the county spend hours on drills and study of fire fighting methods. They know the best way to approach a fire disaster and how to combat it as a team.

Jammed streets and roads can and do seriously delay additional equipment or medical aid which firemen often demand once on a fire.

Beyond being a menace, there is no satisfaction to be derived from participating as sight-seers in the tragedy and anguish of fire victims. Fire victims are best aided after the fire. That is the time the non-fire fighting citizens should go to the fire scene with neighborly assistance.

If fire chasers would only think of themselves as fire victims, they would never pursue firemen.

If you would help your neighbor, help your firemen, you will practice—"do unto others, as you would have them do unto you..."

Conference for Safety

Some six hundred representatives of management, labor, agriculture, information media and municipal offices will meet in Harrisburg tomorrow at the call of Gov. John S. Fine in an effort to determine some of the answers to highway safety.

Whether anything new will derive from this Pennsylvania Conference on Highway Safety remains to be seen, but certainly the more attention given by public health officials to the increasing hazard of our modern mechanization, the more it will be possible to insure widest dissemination of essential information.

Certainly there is no excuse for our disgraceful highway record, whether we are speaking of the United States of America, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the County of Monroe, or the Stroudsburgs.

It is puerile for us to boast, as we do every now and again, that we have not killed or maimed as many people on our local streets and highways as we did last year at this time.

We have not seen the complete agenda for tomorrow's meetings, at which men who are intimately involved with safety affairs will speak, but we hope that at least one of them will emphasize in words of one syllable one undeniable answer to a great deal of our highway killings.

TESTING THE TEMPERATURE

Robert S. Allen Reports

Over 200 Organizations Face Red Front Charges

Washington — Two hundred organizations in various parts of the country face being charged as Communist fronts.

A number of them are labor unions. All will be formally accused by Attorney General Herbert Brownell.

He has completed compilation of this new list of alleged secret Red affiliates and will shortly submit it to the Subversive Activities Control Board.

This quasi-judicial agency was created by Congress expressly to consider such citations. The five-member Board holds hearings on each case and then hands down a ruling, which can be appealed to the federal courts.

The Justice Department bases its charges on exhaustive FBI investigations. Congressional probers have nothing to do with the preparation of these cases. In fact, it's the other way around. The congressional investigators use the FBI's reports to stage headline-making hearings.

Brownell's forthcoming list of Communist-tagged organizations will be a striking instance of this generally overlooked fact.

It will also be further affirmation of the Administration's repeated contention that the constant and effective safeguarding of the nation's security is in the hands of the Justice Department and other enforcement agencies. Their quiet and persistent work is the real defense against subversives, security risks and spies.

The politicians get the publicity, but these agencies fight the never-ending battle against Red infiltration and destruction.

Inside word about Brownell's announced plan came from Board Chairman Thomas J. Herbert. He made the disclosure in explaining to a group of senators why his agency needed extra funds.

"The reason for asking an increase in our budget," the former Ohio Governor said, "is that we have been told by representatives of the Justice Department that new Communist-front cases will be filed with us in the next few months. We were advised that Attorney General Brownell has 200 such cases ready to send to us."

"How many cases are now pending before your Board?" asked Senator Leverett Saltonstall (R., Mass.).

"Around 10," replied Herbert, "but a number of the new cases will be submitted in May and the remainder in June. It is our understanding that all or most of these 200 new cases will be cited by July 1."

Note: Senator William Jenner (R., Ind.), chairman of the Internal Security Subcommittee, is sending out more than 10,000 copies of Brownell's testimony on the late Harry Dexter White to Republican organizations throughout the country.

Good news! Progress is being made in treating certain types of cancer with radioactive isotopes.

Authority for that cheering

news is the head of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Chairman Lewis Strauss, supported by Dr. John C. Bugher, director of the Commission's Division of Biology and Medicine, discussed this significant development at a private meeting of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

They appealed to the senators for the restoration of $3,100,000 which the House cut from the Commission's budget for research in using isotopes in cancer cases.

Strauss pointed out that while this medical program is one of the least expensive in the Commission's budget, it is among the most important and promising.

"Are you really getting anywhere in this research?" asked Senator Bernard Maybank (D., S. C.).

"Progress is being made," said Strauss. "No universal breakthrough has yet been achieved in the cancer problem. But some uses have been found and accepted by the medical profession for radiation treatment of specific kinds of cancer."

"I've been told you were on the way to a universal breakthrough," explained Maybank. "Important scientists and doctors said the thought and theory is that there would be a breakthrough relatively soon."

"At the outset there was considerable over-optimism," said Strauss, "and that was followed by a normal reaction. Today, our facilities are sending out around 12,000 shipments of radioactive isotopes a year. A large percentage of them are used for treatments or experiments in diagnosis."

Dr. Bugher confirmed that report. "Progress is steady and substantial in this field," he told the senators. "But I'm sure you will understand that developments don't take place with startling rapidity. They require hard and detailed work over long periods of time."

"But this kind of honest work is going on," said Maybank, "and you really think that we are getting somewhere with it?"

"Yes, definitely," replied Bugher. "Progress is being made. It's slow, but we have high hopes for the future."

George Sokolsky Says...

There Must Be Something Wrong With Big Deskmen Who Are Scared About 'Phones

The cause of confusion may be as small as a mustard seed, as is evidenced in the early testimony in the McCarthy-Stevens argument, which has come down to the maximum that Roy Cohn made some explosive remarks and Senator Mc-

Carthy wisecracked about Schine wanting to be a general and might want time off to meet young ladies. When General Miles Reber, formerly the Army's legislative liaison agent, said that "I got approximately 1,000 cases in my office a week ... over 10 years" from members of Congress, and others, presumably asking for favors or information from the Army, he gave Mr. Stevens's case away.

In all the questions and answers and remarks on the subject, it became clear that no body thought that it was morally or ethically wrong for a member of Congress, or even a lowly citizen who was never elected to anything, to recommend appointments to office in the Army or elsewhere. So that point being settled, the question arose as to whether Cohn's telephone calls were excessive.

Secretary Stevens said: "From mid-July of last year until March 1 of this year, David Schine was discussed between one branch or the other of the Department of the Army and Senator McCarthy or members of his staff in more than 65 telephone calls." It was not specified if all the calls were about Schine, but even so, this number may or may not be excessive depending upon one's habits and relationships. Even if calls were made every day, involved are about 225 days, or about one call every four days all told and involving many people.

Personally, I think that many people are developing a disease of telephinitis, which is a nervous reaction rather than a business necessity. When they have nothing better to do, they sit down to a round of telephone calls. On the slightest provocation, they call you away from the dinner table or wake you up too early in the morning.

Granting that Roy Cohn suffers from telephinitis, why did not Robert Stevens tell him to stop bothering him? This, I do not understand. Can anyone imagine some of Mr. Stevens's predecessors, before the defense agencies were amalgamated into the Department of Defense, arguing with a Congressional committee, counsel on what to do about a prospective or current private in the Army? I am sure that Henry L. Stimson, or to go back a pace, William Howard Taft, would have shown the young fellow the door and given orders not to accept the calls. There must surely be something wrong with these men who sit behind big desks that they are so easily frightened by the telephone.

That is about all that this case has, up to the moment of writing, established. To repeat, what has been established by the evidence: It is all right to recommend anybody to anything provided the person is qualified, which is a matter of judgment; it is objectionable to do it too impressively.

True porcelain was introduced in the Ming dynasty of China.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

Nothing in the world is quite so insulting as the truth. You can tell a woman she is beautiful—which may be a colossal lie. But tell her that she is losing her youthful appearance and ought to do something about it, and she will be your enemy forever after.

Not that she won't do something about it, and quickly. But she will never forgive you for having told her the truth.

Does that mean that, to be successful you have to be a liar? Not at all. Not a liar, but to use the almost-synonym for it—a diplomat.

Sincerity is a very wonderful attribute. But sincerity should be used sparingly and primarily only when asked for. Not even then is it always safe to be sincere. You can never tell how the other fellow will take it.

I remember one of my first jobs. The boss bragged about his various virtues, particularly about his non-susceptibility to women. He continuously admonished us to be truthful, sincere, honest.

One day, as I went into the stock room, I caught the boss out on the fire escape with his arms around the little stockroom girl.

The next time I was in the boss' office I told him that I didn't think he should have done that.

"Imagine if your wife had seen you out there!" I suggested.

He took it quietly, like a man should who had preached truth, sincerity, honesty so much.

The next Friday was payday. I tore open the envelope, anxious to see whether I had got a raise for my truthfulness, sincerity and honesty.

The contents of the envelope were the same as usual. But there was a little pink slip in the envelope. It said "Your services will be no longer required two weeks after this notice."

One thing that always makes me mad as the dickens is advertising matter in the mail dealing with ailments or short-comings which I really have.

It grips me when I get something that will cure falling hair or something that will positively

State Expects To Speed Completion Of Overpass At Cresco

Sees Opening Before Start Of Heavy Travel

Immediate placement of detour signs on Route 90 at Cresco to permit concentrated prosecution of an overpass construction would permit traffic to flow freely on this project without detour by May 28.

That was the gist of a report filed yesterday by R. E. Boyer, district engineer of the State Highway Department, with R. LeRoy Denger, president of Monroe County Automobile Club.

Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe, who had received vigorous complaints from many resort operators in the Barrett region, checked the district highway office at Allentown yesterday morning.

He was advised the length of time the detour would be needed would be only a matter of a few weeks, if applied immediately and full scale operations are started by the contractor. This report, Sen. Crowe said, indicated the road will be in full use before heavy seasonal traffic starts.

Mr. Denger and a committee had inspected the overpass project at Lackawanna Railroad tracks in Cresco Tuesday. They filed a protest with Boyer and other highway officials.

Boyer advised Mr. Denger yesterday he is very much concerned about the matter. He said what "we would like to do would be to put detour signs up immediately, and have the contractor complete the job as expeditiously as possible."

Boyer expressed the belief the work can be done in about two weeks, certainly during the month of May, if the detour is up immediately and the contractor pushes operations with a full crew.

Mr. Denger expressed belief Mr. Boyer meant 14 working days. However, officials said, dependent upon weather and unforeseen delays, the detour should be removed in May, if intensive construction work start immediately.

Boyer said that "local light traffic would be maintained" so that local people will not be inconvenienced too much.

Denger said it is his feeling that as long as the construction has to be done to eliminate a dangerous grade crossing—and a certain amount of traffic is detoured, it would be better to have it done as early in May as possible.

This plan would eliminate a detour all during the heavy tourist season, Denger said.

Pocono Lake — The missionary and evangelist rally at the Pilgrim Holiness Church here was marked by a record attendance Tuesday.

The speaker, Rev. Arthur Peiser, stressed the general effects of the sun, revealing Jesus as the sun of righteousness.

Rev. Flexon presented the needs of a mountain village in Peru. The congregation has given more than half of the amount to erect a church there, and expects to give the entire amount, according to Rev. J. A. Gangware, pastor.

Rev. R. G. Gussallus, of Eastern Pilgrim College, will speak on evangelism at weekend services. Special music will be furnished by the orchestra. Students from Eastern College will participate.

Altman Named Shop Steward

George E. Altman was reelected to a third term as shop steward of Patterson-Kelley Co., East Stroudsburg, at a meeting of International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Ship Builders, Blacksmiths, Forgers and Helpers Local 397 recently.

Altman is vice president of the local, a member of the board of governors, member of the executive committee of CLU, and is shop chairman, civic charities and blood bank chairman; he is co-chairman of the company's picnic grove association; and secretary-treasurer of the Goodfellowship Club of P-K.

Registration Dates Fixed

Swiftwater — Dates for examination and registration of children eligible for entrance into first grade at Paradise School in September have been set for Thursday, May 6, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., and Friday, May 7, from 9 a. m. to noon, at the Barrett Township School. Vaccination and birth certificates should be presented.

West End GOP To Hear Williams

Democracy will be discussed by Arlington W. Williams, Stroudsburg attorney, at a meeting of the West End Republican Club at 8 p. m. Friday at Reeders Inn.

ADULT CONCERN—for the problems of youth formed the theme of the talks given at an open meeting in Stroudsburg Tuesday night by Judge Fred W. Davis, left, who spoke on juvenile delinquency in Monroe County, and Rev. Theodore Meek, right, who spoke on the responsibility of church people toward youth problems. Mrs. Theodore Moore, program chairman, and Mrs. John Wellington, president of the Woman's Association of the church, presided at the meeting. (Daily Record Photo)

Judge Davis Places Post In Operation

The second Monroe County Ground Observer post was officially opened last night by Civil Defense Director Fred W. Davis.

"Air flash," he told the operator. Immediately he was connected with the Air Force filter center in Harrisburg.

Director Davis then reported the East Stroudsburg GOC post in operation, and signed off.

It was one of the highlights of a rally held at the American Legion building, site of the roof-top observation post.

County CD personnel were there, and an Air Force man. So was Earl Palmer, head of the county GOC and Capt. Paul Mauger, chief of the new post.

The new post will attempt to operate temporarily on a 12-hour daily basis. There are some 50 volunteer sky-watchers, but 168 are needed for round-the-clock observation. All volunteers 16 or older are welcomed.

Scout Troop Convenes For Charter Review

Tannersville—A charter review meeting was held last night by Boy Scout Troop 85 at Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Co. firehouse.

The group went over plans for a national Boy Scout conservation program and a local fire prevention campaign.

William Raup, field scout executive, presided. Charles VanSciver, institutional representative also spoke.

The troop committee is headed by S. B. Howell, with members listed as John Montgomery, George A. Learn, Charles Beseker, William Raish, Donald Bonser, Charles Brader and George Raish.

Scoutmaster is John Hay, Explorer adviser is O. Richard Howell. Registration of 30 members showed an increase of three over last year.

Three Boards To Take Vote On Uniting School Districts

Groner was reporting conclusions drawn by a six-man committee.

On the committee were John Little, county superintendent; Alfred Munson and Samuel Wells, Stroudsburg High School principal and assistant, respectively; Roger Dunning, Stroudsburg elementary principal; Raymond Harding, Stroud principal and Groner.

The proposed union, Groner said, would mean an educational unit of about 1800 pupils. Needed to educate these children would be an estimated 80 to 85 teachers.

Foremost among the advantages, Groner said, were these:

One—Formation of a larger school unit which could offer more services to a greater number of pupils than can now be offered by the three districts individually. These services could also be given more economically.

Two—Easier placement of pupils in best possible locations because all the school plant and transportation facilities are available.

Three—Broader and more enriched course of study.

Four—All taxpayers in the three districts will have an equal voice in management of the high school as well as grade school.

Five—It would be possible to make "long range" plans which are not now feasible for separate districts.

Six—Greater cooperation in administration of a generally uniform education system through elementary and secondary grades. This would give all students same background in basic studies, arts and special courses.

Groner then broke "advantages" down into the elementary and secondary divisions. One of the biggest advantages on the elementary level, he said, would be "a more equitable distribution of special services such as kindergarten, school psychologist, speech correction, music supervisors, arts and crafts instructors, health and physical education teachers, a full-time nurse and a complete cafeteria and lunch program."

Under terms of the union, Groner said, it would be possible to work out the following "high school advantages," also:

One—Turning Stroud and Delaware Water Gap students into "resident" students. Both districts now pay tuition to the borough school system.

Two—Uniform attendance rules could be set up.

Three—Greater correlation between elementary and secondary schools in regard to curriculum and other phases of the school program. Last night's meeting began at 6:30; ended shortly before 9:30. It was marked by complete harmony throughout. Some questions were asked from the floor following submission of the Crane report. These dealt almost entirely with sub-division of totals listed in the proposed budgets.

Union Contends NLRB Should Rule On Dispute

Attorneys presented arguments before Judge Fred W. Davis yesterday in the injunction petition of Hanford L. Cleveland, East Stroudsburg plumbing contractor, to halt picketing at the Monroe County YMCA building project.

Forrest Mervine, representing Ralph Paul, business agent of Local 655, Plumbers and Steamfitters Union, contends Monroe County Court has no power to rule on the petition, saying the decision is up to the National Labor Relations Board.

Walter Olenick, serving with Elmer Christine as legal counsel for Cleveland, declared the local court has jurisdiction and asked the injunction be granted because the defendants have "coerced" Cleveland into committing "an unlawful practice."

Action stems from the work stoppage at the $455,000 YMCA project on Sept. 28 when union-affiliated tradesmen walked off the job shortly after Cleveland's non-union workers reported.

Both attorneys cited a number of previous court actions to back their demands. Mervine said he wanted it made plain the YMCA "is not a party to the proceedings," adding action by the union is designed to restrain Cleveland on all projects.

Mervine said in 1950 about "eight or nine" of Cleveland's workers were union members but left after a disagreement over fines.

He said when Cleveland's men worked on the General Hospital construction in 1950, that project was picketed as a matter of organization for the union. He added the union has made efforts through Paul to have the former union members rejoin but to no avail.

There has been no disturbance or interference with Cleveland's men, Mervine claimed in his brief to show picketing has been peaceful. He also argued the union has the right to picket for organization purposes but based most of his argument on whether the local court has jurisdiction.

According to Mervine, since interstate commerce is involved, the NLRB should be first called upon

Cleanup Drive Opens Today In Stroudsburg

Residents of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg will start today getting removal of refuse and debris.

All they have to do is put it out at the curb in boxes or some other container and trucks and men of the two boroughs will pick up and dispose of it.

Both borough councils have approved this special service to operate today, tomorrow and Saturday.

Officials emphasized the importance of getting the debris out early today so that truck crews patrolling streets can make pickups.

It will be a "once-around" affair—no more. For that reason all refuse, except garbage and ashes, should be set out promptly.

Cooperating with the Spring cleanup project are merchants, painters and repairmen who are giving estimates on the "paint-up-cleanup" type of improvements.

Most of the debris is expected to be the usual type of front and back yard debris from gardens of all types. Discards of various types which clutter back yards, such as old cans, pails, broken toys will be taken in the pickups.

Rural Mail Box Week Slated To Start May 17

The Post Office Department has designated the week starting May 17 as mail box improvement week.

In line with this order, and to improve the appearance of Monroe County roads, Postmasters Norman B. Gregory, East Stroudsburg, and Fred Rhodes, Stroudsburg, are appealing to patrons of the rural routes to erect approved mail boxes on the right side of the road, as traveled by the Rural Carriers.

The boxes should face the road, be from 42 to 48 inches from the ground, on posts firmly planted in the ground, and should be water proof. The boxes and supports should be painted with white or aluminum paint.

The box holder's name should be inscribed on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, in neat black letters about one inch high. A list of persons authorized to receive mail in the box should be pasted on the inside visible to the carrier when the box is open.

The approaches to the boxes should be filled and properly graded and kept unobstructed at all times.

Rural patrons are also requested to include their RFD number in their return addresses, thus avoiding non-delivery of their mail when correspondents write to them merely addressed to the town or city.

School Children Conduct Diet Experiment With Mice

Delaware Water Gap—Forty-eight children in the six grades at the public school here are learning the value of a substantial meal through an experiment they've been conducting since March 24.

Proposed by Marion Field, R. N., State Department of Health, Stroudsburg, and supervised by Mrs. Walter Marshall, teacher of grades one and two, and Mrs. Alys Morton, instructor of the four top grades, the test is achieving success.

Students in Clearview School conducted a similar experiment several months ago and the program here is the second of its nature under auspices of the State nurse.

Results of the experiment, slated to conclude in 10 days, will be related to parents by the use of slides, and children will show the adults in the school rooms the step-by-step method on which they have been working.

Starting with two white rats, pupils named them Wiggle and Nibble as the experiment opened. Wiggle weighed in at 49 grams and Nibble, 50 grams.

Both rodents were good specimens when the test started. But now Wiggle has grown to 230 grams while Nibble weighs only 130 grams.

Wiggle has been fed fruit, vegetables, meat, milk, bread and cereals. Nibble is on a diet of bread and soda water.

Healthy, strong Wiggle was 8½ inches long on March 24, and now measures 13½ inches. Nibble, now weak, was 8 inches long at the start and has grown only three inches.

Pupils have observed that Wiggle now is playful, a far brighter attitude than he had as a shy rat in the beginning. Nibble has been "shy" throughout the experiment. Pupils say he is nervous and restless. Wiggle's eyes are perfectly clear, and Nibble's are watery and red.

Yesterday pupils all sat down for breakfast at 9 a. m. and had fruit juice, milk, toast and wheat cereal. Teachers also have been briefing them on table manners and a well balanced diet with the view that good food makes healthy students.

Schoonover Arraigned On Charge

Held for the Monroe County grand jury on a burglary charge yesterday was William Schoonover, 22, Stroudsburg RD2 farmer.

He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser, East Stroudsburg. Bail has not yet been set, but will be determined in county court.

Schoonover was arrested Monday night by Officer Travis Seese of East Stroudsburg. Seese charged Schoonover with driving the car for two juveniles charged with car thefts.

One of the juveniles testified at yesterday's hearing that he and a companion had broken into the Clarence Lee garage at the Lee Gravel Co., East Stroudsburg RD3, and that Schoonover drove the car. Lee also testified. He said he had talked three times with Schoonover while the latter was parked a short distance down the road from the garage.

Lee had come back to find the car there. Schoonover said he had stopped a moment for relief, Lee testified.

A short time later, Schoonover said he now had motor trouble and couldn't start the car, the garage owner said. After the third inquiry by Lee, Schoonover started his car and drove off with the juveniles. Bonser quoted the testimony. In the meantime, according

AS STATE OFFICERS look on, Mrs. Foster Minnich, right, prepares to accept the presidency of the Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs at last night's dinner meeting from Mrs. Harry Shinnen, next to her, county president for the past two years. Mrs. Warren Edson, left, vice president to the northeast district, was the installing officer and Mrs. Carl Schnur, state board member, was the dinner speaker.

Federated Woman's Clubs List Achievements; Elect Mrs. Minnich New President

With the change in administrations, the Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs could assess the contributions made by the member clubs over the past two years, when they gave $11,669.32 for community and welfare projects, gained one new club and 71 new members and worked actively for 18 community projects.

The impressive total was reported by the retiring county president, Mrs. Harry Shinnen, of the Barrett Woman's Club, at the afternoon meeting held at the Stroud Community House. It was at this meeting that the officers were elected for the coming year.

Mrs. Foster S. Minnich of the Stroudsburg Senior Woman's Club was elected president; Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, Barrett, first vice president; Mrs. Richard R. Fredenberg, Stroudsburg Juniors, second vice president; Mrs. George Metzgar Jr., Saylorsburg Progressive Woman's Club, recording secretary; Mrs. H. L. Ryder, Keystone Club of Matamoras, treasurer, and Mrs. William A. Hannas, Stroudsburg Senior Woman's Club, corresponding secretary. They were ceremoniously installed at the dinner meeting by Mrs. Warren N. Edson, vice president in the Northeastern District.

Mrs. Edson was guest speaker at the afternoon session when she gave practical suggestions on the "Responsibility of County Chairmen." They are liaisons between the state and club chairmen, she pointed out, through whom state material is distributed.

Any club, sponsoring a benefit for a specific project, is legally bound to devote all proceeds from the benefit to that project, she said, and advised clubs wishing to leave the distribution of the proceeds open to specify that in announcing the benefit.

The afternoon program opened with the invocation by Mrs. Clayton Fetherman, past president of the Monroe County Federation and a welcome and greetings given by Mrs. John W. Sibley, president of the Stroudsburg Junior Woman's Club which was host club to the federation.

The Stroudsburg Senior Woman's Club will be hosts to the Fall meeting. It was decided at the meeting.

The Decemettes of Stroudsburg High School, directed by Nuna Snyder, sang three numbers. A tour of the Monroe County Historical Society rooms followed the afternoon meeting with Mrs. Horace G. Walters, curator of the Historical Society, serving as guide to its treasures.

The Independence Hall restoration project, the major project of both the state and national federation this year, formed the theme of decorations at the dinner meeting held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. Independence Hall place mats, sold through the county federation for the benefit of the restoration, were used at each place with red, white and blue place cards and red and white flowers in blue vases as centerpieces.

Mrs. Carl E. Schnur, chairman of the department of education of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs was the dinner speaker. Her topic was "Our Educational Program and Your Club." In her talk she stressed that Woman's Clubs can be vital in supporting the public schools, in advancing libraries, in increasing scholarship opportunities, and in promoting adult educational facilities.

Mrs. LeRoy J. Koehler, past president of the Monroe County Federation, gave the invocation at the dinner. Mrs. Edwin Snyder, chairman of registration, reported that 88 women had registered, representing the Stroudsburg Seniors and Junior Club, the Barrett Woman's Club and Community Club, the Saylorsburg Progressive Woman's Club, and the Keystone Club of Matamoras.

Mrs. James J. Cummings was chairman of arrangements and Mrs. Alex L. Bensinger was chairman of hospitality.

Troop 1, Brownies Evaluate Recent Outdoor Meeting

The Brownies of Troop 1, meeting at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church revived the outdoor meeting they had, making an evaluation of the things they had learned and the things they had liked.

They had enjoyed being out of doors for a meeting, painting the hard-boiled eggs and hunting for them afterwards. The grownups had hidden the eggs while they were hiking to the stream to sail their wish-boats.

Other things they recalled with pleasure were: playing on the hammock, cooking hot dogs and "some-mores" and the hard-boiled egg pig prize.

They could congratulate themselves on the fact that every Brownie remembered to bring her permission slip and her own "sit-upon," and they congratulated Jeannie Ellen Bossler and Peggy Ann Smith for taking charge of the first aid kit, and Sue Haney for winning the prize for the special egg under the bird bath.

Adults present were Mrs. Helen Dippie, Mrs. Parke Kunkle, Miss Marion Douma, and their leaders, Mrs. Dawn Rose and Mrs. Lillian Acker. Two Brownies were absent.

The troop planned its next meeting when they will join another troop for part of the program. Joanne Dippie and Gail Godshall reported on the planning board meeting, and took a vote on coming Brownie activity. Many camp stamps were purchased, and almost all the cookie money is in, it was reported.

Indian View Of Indo-China Theme Of Talk

Bangor — Dieu Khuong, a native of Indo-China and student at Lafayette College, Easton, spoke to the Bangor Senior Women's Club at their semi-monthly meeting held Monday afternoon in the club rooms of the Public Library.

Mr. Khuong spoke of the Viet Nam and the current conditions in Indo-China. He concluded his address by expressing that "he feels, along with most of the populace of Indo-China, that other nations should stay out and let their country have its independence." Before his conclusion, he pointed out many of the customs of his native land to his audience and traced the history of the colonial French government. Mr. Khuong was introduced by Mrs. O. W. Ackerman.

Members of the Pen Argyl Senior Women's Club were guests of the Bangor Club. Mrs. Clark Hahn, vice president, was in charge of the meeting and extended the welcome to the guests. Mrs. Philip Jago, president of the Pen Argyl Club, responded and extended an invitation to the Bangor Women to be their guests at their next monthly meeting, May 10.

Entertainment was provided by William Brown with two tenor vocal solos. He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Evelyn Dietz. It was announced that the club will hold their annual Spring Luncheon at the Penn Stroud Hotel on May 22.

Son Is Born Announcement has been made of the birth of a son on Monday to Dr. and Mrs. Robert Ellisweig of Boundbrook, N. J.

Mrs. Ellisweig is the former Barbara Mandler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Mandler of Bushkill. Dr. Ellisweig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ellisweig of East Stroudsburg.

Smithfield PTA Reelects Overfield

Nelson Overfield was re-elected as president of the Smithfield Parent-Teachers Association at their meeting held on Tuesday night at the school.

Other officers elected included Harold Hamlen, vice president; Mary Poppolardo, secretary; and Esther Scott, treasurer.

The Gold Seal of Approval of the National PTA has been awarded to the Smithfield PTA. It was announced, which met all the requirements during the past year.

The Smithfield Band attended the Stroudsburg Band Concert on April 22, it was announced, with Paul Bartholomew, Donald Brink and Mrs. Gordon Bitterman as chaperones.

The annual Spring Thrift Shop Sale was announced for May 7. Outgoing chairmen reported on the year's work and thanked the members for cooperation.

Following the business session, all of the teachers at the school reported on the visits they had made to other school systems during the county institute day.

Miss Giaquinto President Of Bangor BPWC

Bangor — Miss Florence Giaquinto was elected President of the Professional and Business Women's Club of Bangor at their monthly meeting held at the Colonial Hotel here on Monday night. Miss Giaquinto is the Bangor High School Librarian. Other officers elected were Miss Evelyn Reimel, vice president; Miss Mary Martin, recording secretary; Mrs. Olive Hamm, treasurer; and re-elected to another term as corresponding secretary was Mrs. Helen Roberts.

Miss Giaquinto was also named delegate to the BPW State Convention to be held at Buck Hill Falls in May.

Installation of officers will be held on June 21. The exact time and place to be announced later. Mrs. Marion Pritchard, retiring president, was in charge of the short business session when it was agreed to give a donation to the Crippled Children's Society. An annual auditing committee was named. Those named were Mrs. Hamon, Miss Kay Shanahan, and Mrs. Elizabeth Mohr.

Four students of the Muhlenberg College Drama Club provided the entertainment with a humorous skit on "How Women Play Bridge."

It was announced that the next meeting would be the BPW's annual anniversary dinner and meeting to be held at the Colonial Hotel, May 24. Special guest at this meeting will be Mrs. John P. Riley, who will present her program entitled "Madonnas." The Bangor Junior and Senior Women's Clubs will be guests at that dinner.

Brownies, Girl Scouts Organize Troops

Brodheadsville — A reorganization of both the Brownie and Girl Scout troops in the West End was marked at the meeting held Friday afternoon with their leaders at Chestnuthill High School. The Brownie Troop has been inactive for the past year and the Intermediate Girl Scouts were dissolved three years ago.

Both troops are now large and enthusiastic about the new program.

Mrs. LeRoy Koehler, president of the Monroe County Girl Scout Council, and Mrs. Alfred Munson, executive director of the council, brought greetings to the new troops and their leaders. They were introduced by Mrs. Thomas Reinhart, member of the organization committee of the Saylorsburg Progressive Women's Club which is sponsoring the troop.

The Woman's Club was the original sponsor of the Scouts in 1946 under the presidency of Mrs. Lizzie Fetherman. The first Brownie leaders were Mrs. Thomas Reinhart and Mrs. William Glover while the late Dr. Mary Cleaver was leader of the Intermediate Scouts.

Leaders of the new Brownie troop are Mrs. Hazel Ackey, of Effort, and Mrs. William Kresge of Brodheadsville. Leaders of the new Intermediate troop are Mrs. Robert Anderson, of Saylorsburg, and Mrs. Chrissie Mosteller of Brodheadsville. They all plan to start their basic leadership training on May 3 at the Girl Scout House in Stroudsburg.

The troops are open to all girls in the surrounding areas. Brownies are from ages 7 to 10 and Intermediate Scouts for girls over ten. They will meet every Friday at 3:30 in Chestnuthill High School. Parents of the scouts must provide transportation home after the meetings.

Bible Class Plans Delicatessen Sale

Bangor — A delicatessen sale to be held in the near future was planned when the Young Ladies Bible Class of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday night in the Fellowship Hall. They also agreed to sponsor an adult member for the nursery each Sunday. This will be in addition to the Teen-age girls who serve.

A new member, Mrs. Lois Palmer, was welcomed. Mrs. Ethyle Joella, president, presided, and Mrs. Marta LaBar read the secretary's report, with Mrs. Doris Parsons giving the treasurer's report. Mrs. Arlene Wagner led in devotions.

Hostesses were Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Miriam Miller, Mrs. Irma Dawe, and Miss Elizabeth Hughes. Others taking part in the session were Mrs. Dorothy Schaefer, Mrs. Marie Mitchell, Mrs. Peggy Smith, Mrs. Marion Sadtler, Mrs. Jeanette Heard, Mrs. Betty Trewecks, Mrs. Wanda Jones, Mrs. Claire Mitchell, Mrs. Janet Jones, and Mrs. Evelyn LaBar.

Crusader Meeting Fri.

Bartonsville — The Crusader Class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School, Bartonsville, will meet at the parish house on Friday night at 8 when final plans will be made for the Mother's Day service to be sponsored by the class.

"If you're wise, you'll leave on a fast boat for China the day Mr. Wyckoff returns from Europe," one of my co-workers suggested after reading Tuesday's column.

"Well, if she does I'll go with her," another volunteered. "That column should have been written ages ago."

Her attitude seems general, and it's unfortunate so few knew about the article in advance. Ever since it appeared I've been stopped by customers, and visited by Wyckoff associates, who recount additional information that might have been included.

"You didn't even mention Mr. Wyckoff's philanthropies," one reader protested, "and goodness knows, he's the most generous man alive." A fellow worker mentions the cocoa. "I've always appreciated the way he provides us with free cocoa each morning because he considers it more nourishing than the coffee we'd order."

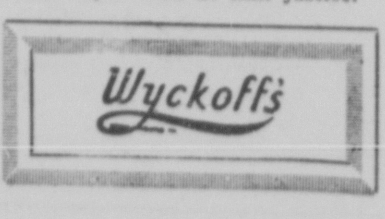

I hadn't forgotten any of these things really. I'd simply run out of space. As for Mr. Wyckoff's generosity, that's something I'd never mention. Once very early in my stay at the store, I spoke to him of his philanthropies and what a wonderful article they would make. Kindly but firmly he announced that some things were not for publication, his charitable interests among them.

No article about my employer would be complete without mentioning his love of music and his appreciation of the arts. One of Mr. Wyckoff's great friends through the years was the late Cullen Yates whose talent was introduced to Monroe Countians largely through his efforts. The annual art show at one of our finest hotels was first encouraged by Mr. Wyckoff, who further promotes the interests of local artists through an art show in our store each January.

My boss also has a deep interest in the young people of our schools, and there is probably no event on our store calendar that gives him greater satisfaction than the annual home economics and farming exhibits.

Thoughtfulness is a keynote of my boss's personality - - so is humor. Only Dottie Dunn, Betty Bartholomew and he knows why he greets them with "Good morning, N.O.B. and N.O.B.," but whatever their secret it is a happy one. Margaret LaBar, who heads our Wyckoff Employees Association, is always "Madame President"; Selma Ruster, whose long association with our store is a legend in itself, merits the accolade of "Babe"; Mr. Kerlin, our general manager, is "The Prince"; and Ann Weiss, of our candy department, has been Helen ever since Mr. Wyckoff learned that this is her middle name. There is a very special "anthem" which is sung regularly just to Blanche Mackey, and the girls in our credit office are hailed each day with a cheery, "Hi ya, darlings" to which they chorus, "Hi ya, sir."

Typing all this, I've reached the conclusion that Tuesday's column was entirely inadequate. This is almost always the case when one tries to tell in a few words the story of a person who lives each day generously, fully, and with understanding. Anyway, since Tuesday, thanks to the Peter Wyckoffs, there are ten grandchildren. Someday someone will write a book about my boss. There is a faint possibility it will do him justice.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Coston

Joyce Banta Is Bride Of R. F. Coston

Miss Joyce Lee Banta, of Brooklyn, N. Y., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Lee Banta, of Stroudsburg RD2, was married on Saturday night at 7:30 in the Baptist Church, East Stroudsburg, to Robert F. Coston, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Coston, of Leesburg, Pa.

Rev. Norman Savage performed the double-ring ceremony in a candlelight service with a background of bouquets of white snapdragons.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of white imported English organza over blush pink. The scoop neck was appliqued with organza flowers, and her Juliet cap held a fingertip veil of blush pink imported from Paris. She carried a white Bible with white orchids and streamers. The strand of pearls she wore was the gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Edwin Joens, of Stroudsburg RD2, was her sister's matron of honor. She wore ice blue tulle with white embroidered organza in a ballerina-length gown with a blue tulle picture hat and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Edwin Joens was best man, and Harold Kopp of Easton and Tom Harshorn of Wilkes-Barre served as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a gown of French blue lace with a matching straw hat, white accessories and a corsage of yellow tea roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a light pink dress with a matching straw hat and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception for forty guests was held at the Green Lantern Tea Room in East Stroudsburg. There were centerpieces of Spring flowers on the guests' tables, white bouquets of white snapdragons and a three-tier wedding cake decorated the bridal table.

After a wedding trip to New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Coston will make their home in Chillicothe, Ohio. For traveling, the bride chose a navy dress with navy and white accessories and wore a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Abraham Lincoln High School in Brooklyn, N. Y., and of the Barizon Modeling School. She has been a junior executive in the bridal Salon and A & S Department Store in Brooklyn. Mr. Coston is a graduate of Leesburg High School. He served two years in the U. S. Marines and just returned from Korea. He received his discharge on April 12.

Novel Playlet Is Witnessed By Women's Assn.

The meeting of the Women's Assn. of the Smithfield Presbyterian Church, held April 21 at the church featured a playlet, arranged by Janet Richards and Alice Wickes. It's theme "The Will of God Through Women" was portrayed by different women of the group using simple costumes and no props.

Each actor read her part by a desk and lamp. An exit was signified by turning off the lamp. Only the actual Bible words were spoken by the actors. Gene Hallett the narrator gave the background for each of the four stories used—Esther, Ruth, Hannah and Rebekah.

Dora Hallett, the president presided over a short business meeting which was followed by refreshments served by Mrs. Ruby Mosier and Mrs. Nellie Mosier.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Jet-propelled, that's us. Though when the avalanche of news seemed about to overwhelm me, I could look at the accomplishments of the club women of Monroe County and gain fresh strength. Remember that two-year report represents only six of the federated clubs.

If you'd add to that the contributions of the fire company auxiliaries with their penny suppers and card parties; the church auxiliaries with their pledges and their cookbooks and birthday parties; the hospital auxiliaries with their concerts and antique shows and card parties—

Well, over a two-year period I'd bet we hit the million mark, give or take a little. And there's plenty of both in club work as the officers can tell you. Mrs. Shinnen's smile in the club picture seems truly genuine, as well it might with two years so successfully over.

Mrs. Minnich, a veteran of club work since she has served as president of the Woman's Club and of the Republican Council as well as heading many an active committee, knows full well what's ahead so maybe that smile is a little—well, shall we say "determined"?

But they are a wonderful invention, women. I might quote a line from the federation program yesterday "Without woman, the beginning of our lives would be helpless, the middle without pleasure, and the end without consolation."

Men are wonderful, too, though. Especially Dr. Headrick, heading for a talk with the Paradise PTA, when he opened the wrong door and found himself on the stage involved in the spelling bee then going on. Wish Mrs. Mader had told me how he made out.

Listen To Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:15 a.m.

Another bee followed in which about 15 adults spelled, the last one standing being Mrs. Elmer Mader.

The May meeting will be the last for the season, to resume again in September. Election of officers is scheduled for this meeting, for which the following nominating committee was named: Mrs. Russell Shiek, Mrs. Jack Manchester, Mrs. Carl Hamblin

Cherry Valley Fellowship Elects Officers

The Cherry Valley Methodist Youth fellowship met at the home of Martha Haney, on Tuesday, April 27, with President Howard Blakeslee in charge. Minutes were read by the secretary and roll call found 15 members present.

Jim Wallace gave a report on the movie committee. Movies will be shown at the Cherry Valley Church twice a month starting in June.

The young group will sponsor a roller skating party Monday, May 3, at the Stroud Roller Rink.

Final plans were made for the Talent Show to be held at the Cherry Valley Grange Hall on Wednesday, May 5, at 8:00. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from any Youth fellowship member. Martha Haney, Bob Field, and Sam Blakeslee were appointed to sell and collect tickets. In charge of refreshments are Verna Blakeslee, Helen Poortstra, and Joan Armitage. Howard Blakeslee was appointed to take charge of seating.

The Youth fellowship elected the following officers for the next year:

President, Verna Blakeslee; vice president, Sara Shoemaker; secretary, Joan Armitage; treasurer, Robert Field.

Elected to the following chairmanships are: publicity, Sam Blakeslee; Christian Faith, Gale Fisher; Christian Outreach, Helen Poortstra; Christian Citizenship, Monica Boyd; Christian Witness, Ada Mae Arnold; Christian Fellowship, Howard Blakeslee.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Levergood on Tuesday, May 25, at 7:30.

Music Study Club To Open Music Week With Concert

The Music Study Club of the Stroudsburgs will open Music Week with a concert to be held at the Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church in East Stroudsburg on Sunday evening, May 2, at 7:30 o'clock.

A portion of the program will be presented by the Music Club Chorus and a portion by an out-of-town artist, Miss Elizabeth Edwards of Dallas, Texas.

Miss Edwards has had secondary leads in the Dallas Starlight Operettas and has promoted her own radio program in San Antonio. She eventually went to New York City to study under Professor Dietrich. It was he who advised that she go to the Academy of Vocal Art in Philadelphia for further study, and this year marks the second year of attendance at that institution.

Dr. Headrick Warns PTA Of Cancer Increase

Swiftwater—Dr. E. O. Headrick, of Mt. Pocono, showed a film on the danger signals of cancer, and gave a talk on the subject at the meeting of the Paradise Parent-Teachers Association here Monday night. He spoke of the importance of contributing to the cancer fund, pointing out the three needs for the money, i.e., education, research and treatment.

Noting the increase in the number of cancer cases, Dr. Headrick said there is still much uncertainty as to the cause for it, although it is suggestive of the mode toward more congested living and increased toxicity. However, it is highly important that people realize the need not only of funds, but also periodic examinations. Dr. Headrick expressed the desire that people should avail themselves of the free chest X-ray next month, which is now a joint project of three medical interests: tuberculosis, heart and cancer detection.

During the business meeting, with Mrs. David Nelson presiding, it was announced that the hot lunches will continue through the month of May. The recent bake sale for benefit of the hot lunch project netted $46.30.

The much postponed box social and square dance will be held on Saturday night, May 8 at the school. Decorated boxes containing a picnic lunch and the girl's name inside, should have the grade in which the girl is in school, or the word "adult" on the outside.

The organization will sponsor an electrical appliance demonstration at the school in the near future. The attendance award went to Mrs. Banzhof's fifth and sixth graders for most parent representation.

The fifth and sixth grades exhibited hobbies in one of the school rooms, and their participation in the program was a spelling bee, which was won by Linda Fretz.

Inclement Weather Upsets East Stroudsburg Baseball Slate

Date For Nazareth Tilt Undecided

Two days of rain have turned the Lehigh-Northampton League into a tangled jumble of baseball games, with East Stroudsburg High right in the middle.

The Cavaliers were originally slated to oppose Nazareth tomorrow, but the game was advanced to this afternoon. East Stroudsburg requested the move because several players will be missing from the squad tomorrow when the chorus and band takes part in the forensics.

Among those missing will be Bill Pinsky, regular first baseman.

But rain that has fallen over eastern Pennsylvania for the past two days has forced a change in plans.

Bangor and Nazareth were scheduled to play at Bangor's Memorial Park on Tuesday and were rained out. The two teams were washed off the books once again yesterday and now must play today.

League Rule

The Lehigh-Northampton League has a rule that forces postponed games to be played on the next school day whenever possible. Since the Nazareth-East Stroudsburg encounter was originally listed for tomorrow, today is open for the contest.

Coach Jack Kist announced last night that it won't be known until late today whether the game will be played tomorrow or on Tuesday, May 25, the last day of the campaign.

A telephone conversation between representatives of the two schools today will settle the schedule problem.

If today's Bangor-Nazareth contest should be postponed by rain again it will be played on Monday.

East Stroudsburg's next definite date is with Pen Argyl next Tuesday, at East Stroudsburg Playground. The game will begin at 4 p. m.

Dupas Wins Over Brady

New Orleans (AP)—Speedy Ralph Dupas of New Orleans piled up a tremendous advantage in the early rounds to score a unanimous 10-round decision over Dennis "Pat" Brady of New York in a nationally televised lightweight fight here last night.

Dupas weighed 137, Brady 138½.

The swift 18-year-old Dupas, rated number five in the lightweight division, sped to an overwhelming margin in the first four rounds by carrying the fight to the rugged New Yorker.

Dupas repeatedly beat Brady to the punch with a dazzling left hook and opened up cuts over both eyes in the early rounds.

Gashes

The 26-year-old Brady, a veteran of 95 professional fights, seemed bewildered as the New Orleans High school student continually rushed in with a two-handed attack. Dupas opened a wide gash over Brady's right eye in the first round and the cut appeared to bother him for the rest of the fight.

Brady rarely had the opportunity to use his famous left hook as Dupas either tied him up or rushed him to the ropes with lightning-like charges.

Brady came back strong in the middle rounds with a futile attempt to catch the elusive French quarter speedster.

Judges Eddie "Kid" Wolfe and Francis Kercheval turned in identical cards, giving Dupas six rounds, Brady two and two even. Referee Pete Girauso scored six rounds for Dupas and four for Brady. The Associated Press card gave Dupas six rounds, Brady three and one even.

Cleveland Sells Simpson

Boston (AP)—Outfielder Harry "Suitcase" Simpson, who in three seasons with the Cleveland Indians never lived up to his minor league promise as a hitter, was sold by the Tribe yesterday to its Indianapolis farm club.

Waiver

Other American League clubs waived on Simpson, who suffered an arm fracture in spring training in Arizona but now is almost ready to resume play.

The Indians also sent Indianapolis southpaw Dick Tomaneck, on option.

Shawnee To Present Two New Greens For Invitation Play

Shawnee-on- Delaware — The field of 160 golfers entered in the 31st Annual Shawnee Invitation Tournament, starting at the Shawnee Inn and Country Club next Thursday and continuing through to Sunday, will play over a newly lengthened course.

With new greens on the seventh and 10th and new traps on the seventh, the championship layout here has been increased from 6,767 to 6,817 yards.

Jackson Drops To Fifth On Heavyweight List

New York (AP)—Hurricane Tommy Jackson dipped to fifth place yesterday in the latest ring magazine heavyweight ratings while Jimmy Slade, the conqueror, became the number four challenger for "Rocky" Marciano's title.

The Jackson upset at Eastern Parkway Monday shuffled the ratings in both the heavy and light heavy classes for Slade had been number three in the 175-pound class. As the New York State heavyweight titleholder he was moved to the bigger division.

Ezzard Charles, the ex-champion from Cincinnati who fights Marciano for the title, June 17, remains the leading contender. He is followed by Cuba's Nino Valdes and Britain's Don Cockell who dropped Roland LaStarza to sixth.

There was a slight shuffle in the middleweight ranks, topped by Carl "Bobo" Olson, who was named fighter of the month for his fine defense against welter champ "Kid" Gavilan.

Bobby Jones' knockout of Gil Turner moved him into the middleweight picture and Pierre Langlois was dropped out of the top 10 after his defeat by welter Carmen Basilio, Bobby Dykes was rated number 10 in the middleweight division.

Basilio remained the top challenger to Gavilan in the 147-pound class but Del Flanagan was placed second, ahead of Billy Graham because of Graham's inactivity.

Orlando Zuheta became the second lightweight challenger, replacing Eddie Chavez who went into the Army. Arthur Persley moved up to sixth on his victory over Armand Savoie and Cisco Andrade of Compton, Calif., took ninth place.

Nate Brooks' upset by Mickey Mars was big news among the bantams, dropping Brooks to fifth. Jake Tull lost his first place rating among the flyweights by losing to Dane Bini. Tanny Campo took over as number one.

'Hurricane' Suspended For Thirty Days

New York (AP)—Hurricane Tommy Jackson, who was defeated by Jimmy Slade Monday night, was suspended for 30 days yesterday by Chairman Bob Christenberry of the New York State Athletic Commission. A medical examination revealed the heavyweight had a swelling in his right upper forearm.

Dr. Mal Stevens, head of the medical advisory board; Dr. Ira McCown, medical director of the commission; and Dr. Samuel Swetnick, the club physician at Eastern Parkway Monday, all examined the boxer. It was on their recommendation that Christenberry took action.

Jackson also was asked about reported statements after the fight that he expected to lose and blamed his mother for bothering him. The boxer apologized to the commission and his mother, who was present, saying he had been wrong in saying such things but lost his head in the disappointment of defeat.

Stranahan In Golf Field

St. Andrews, Scotland (AP)—Forty Americans, including former British champion Frank Stranahan and Bob Sweeney, have entered the British Amateur golf championship, the Royal and Ancient Golf Club announced yesterday.

Total field for the six-day tournament, which opens May 24 at Muirfield, is 303, including defending champion Joe Carr of Ireland. The Canadians also are taking a shot at the tournament.

Others

Other prominent American entries included Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia, who played on the United States Walker Cup team in Britain in 1951; William C. Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., a member of the 1953 U. S. Walker Cup team, and Frank Strafford of Garden City, N. Y.

Darius Wins British Classic

Newmarket, England (AP)—Darius went under a heavy whip a furlong from home, took the lead from a fading field yesterday and won the 2,000 guineas—first British classic of the turf season.

Sir Percy Loraine's big three-year-old finished one length ahead of Ferriol and six lengths ahead of the American-purchased long-shot, Poona.

Darius started at 8-1, Ferriol at 100-9 and Poona at 40-1.

Ferriol, French-trained and owned by Comte Rene De Chambray, might have won if jockey Manny Meyer had not whacked Darius hard in the final seconds to gain a needed spur.

Queen Elizabeth's Landau led at the start but the royal colt faded to fourth inside two furlongs and finished far back in the field of 19.

Muhlenberg Faces Two Tough Foes

Allentown — Muhlenberg's hard-hitting baseball team will move back into action this afternoon against Lehigh University at Bethlehem after an eight-day lull in the schedule. Unless the long lay-off has cut down the Mules' efficiency at the plate, the Engineers' pitching staff will be in for a rough afternoon for Bob Hicks' Mules are currently batting .343 as a team.

Saturday

The Mules will encounter another Bethlehem rival Saturday afternoon when they invade the Moravian College diamond for a contest with the Greyhounds.

Former Champs

Besides Taylor, three former champions also are in the field as

Rain Halts Three ESSTC Athletic Teams

Rain and wet grounds kept three East Stroudsburg State Teachers College athletic teams in the locker rooms yesterday.

A baseball game between ESSTC and Wilkes College, listed for yesterday, will be played in Wilkes-Barre today, at 4 p. m.

The ESSTC-University of Scranton track meet, scheduled for Scranton yesterday, will be run on the same track today, with the permission of the weatherman, at 4 p. m.

Tennis

ESSTC's girls' tennis team is slated to oppose Moravian College on the Normal Hill courts next Tuesday at 3:15 p. m. This match was washed off the books yesterday.

The ESSTC girls oppose Drexel Institute in Philadelphia today, at 3 p. m.

It was also revealed yesterday that a scheduled tennis match between the Warriors and New York University will not take place on Saturday as scheduled. NYU has asked for cancellation of the match because several girls are unable to make the trip. The match was to be held on the ESSTC courts.

A list of changes in the ESSTC schedule was released yesterday by Oscar J. Liljenstein, director of athletics at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Morgan Departs From Service

New York (AP)—Tom Morgan, New York Yankee right-hander who shut out Philadelphia April 15 while on terminal leave from the Army, yesterday rejoined the club after his discharge at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Pitch

Morgan will pitch the series opener against Cleveland at Yankee Stadium tomorrow. While at Ft. Sill awaiting discharge he pitched a no-hitter for the post team.

Syracuse Obtains First Baseman

Syracuse, N. Y. (AP)—The Syracuse Chiefs baseball club yesterday obtained Larry DiPippo, 24, a lefthanded first baseman from Louisville of the American Association.

Exchange

The International League Chiefs sent pitcher Tom Casagrande to Louisville last week. DiPippo, received in return, has been in the service for two years.

National Pro Football League To Feature Heavy Schedule Of Saturday Television Games

New York (AP)—The National Football League will televise a heavy program of Saturday pro football next fall, including two Saturday afternoon games on a coast-to-coast network, in addition to its Sunday afternoon "game of the week" and various regional telecasts.

Plans for the 1954 season were announced jointly yesterday by Bert Bell, NFL commissioner, and Thomas J. McMahon, director of sports for the DuMont television network.

Except for the two Saturday afternoon games, the program will follow the pattern established last year. More than 60 games will be shown either nationally or regionally from September 25 through December 11. From four to seven games will be televised each weekend.

In all cases the games will be "blackout" in the city and immediate area in which they are played. The blackouts include Green Bay when the Packers' "home" games in Milwaukee are televised.

West Coast

The two Saturday afternoon games to be aired are Baltimore at Los Angeles, December 4, and Baltimore at San Francisco, December 11. Both are scheduled to start at 2 p. m. local time (5 p. m., EST). It is not expected that these games will conflict with college football, since most college teams will have ended their seasons by that time. The National Collegiate Athletic Association football television program extends through December 4.

The schedule for the Sunday telecasts has not been completed. One "game of the week," to be chosen as the season progresses, will be carried each Sunday on a national network of from 50 to 100 stations. In addition, "road" games of the teams will be televised in their home territory over regional station lineups.

All nine of the Saturday night games will be carried on regional station lineups, whose cities will depend on the teams playing and the sponsors.

Cubs Option Catcher

Chicago (AP)—Catcher Bob Murray of the Chicago Cubs was sent to Macon, Ga., of the Sally League yesterday on 24-hour option recall.

Former Champ Wins

Sydney (AP)—Former Australian welterweight champion Tommy Burns, 143½, scored an easy decision over Americo Agostino, 140, in a 12-round bout at Newcastle last night.

Correlation's Trainer Beams Confidence

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—Echoes of Masty Road's terrific record-smashing performance in the Derby Trial still bounced around old Churchill Downs yesterday, but the trainer of Correlation—favorite for Saturday's $100,000 Kentucky classic—wasn't losing any sleep.

Noble Threewitt, 43-year-old native of Benton, Ill., who trains Correlation for owner Robert Sidney Lytle of Los Angeles, beams with confidence. He thinks his California comet packs the authority of a dozen mint juleps.

Big Victories

In his last two starts both $100,000 affairs, Correlation accounted for the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park and the Wood Memorial at Jamaica.

Regardless, the field for Saturday's mile and one quarter Derby still shapes up with around 18 horses, who will be entered tomorrow morning. If that many flee the starter at 4:30 p. m., EST, it will be the richest since Aristides first got this great show on the road by winning the initial derby May 17, 1875. The gross pot figures at $124,850, with the winner netting $102,800. Count Turf made the biggest greenback haul, $98,050, for winning in 1951.

Rookie Hockey Star Honored

New York (AP)—Don Marshall of the Buffalo Bisons, the highest scoring first-year player in American Hockey League history, yesterday was named as the league's outstanding rookie of the 1953-54 season by a unanimous vote of sports writers and broadcasters.

Second

Marshall received the first-place votes of all six league cities for a maximum of 30 points. Larry Cahan, rugged defenseman of the Pittsburgh Hornets placed second with 10 points and Pete Wright, Buffalo defenseman, third with seven. Scoring was on a 5-3-1 basis with one ballot for each city.

Patton Turns Back Pair Of Amateur Foes

Pinehurst, N. C. (AP)—Billy Joe Patton, the Morgantown, N. C., wholesale lumberman with the lightning-fast backswing, scrambled superlatively yesterday to eliminate defending champion Bill Campbell in the second round of the North and South Amateur golf tournament.

Then he settled down to turn back stubborn 19-year-old Jennings Randolph Jr., of Washington, D. C., and gain the quarter-finals. Both scores were three and one.

Hectic Day

It was a hectic day under a broiling sun in which seven matches went into extra holes, four in the third round.

Today Patton faces Curtis Person, 43-year-old Memphis, Tenn., automobile dealer, who survived a pair of extra hole struggles. Person, conqueror of Frank Stranahan, Tuesday, bounced medalist Ben Goodes of Reidsville, N. C., out of the tournament on the 19th hole after outlasting Tom Draper, Birmingham, Mich., in 20 holes yesterday morning.

Patton finished third in the recent Masters Tournament at Augusta, Ga., and right up to the final round was a serious threat to capture first place.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Golf tournaments backed by the Professional Golfers' Association, both Winter and Summer, usually make one's head swim when the total amount of cash up for grabs is announced. The winner's share is always in the thousands of dollars, from 5,000 up. But when it comes to real money, all must take a back seat to the Tournament of Champions, recently won by Pocono Manor's Art Wall, and the World Series of Golf held each Summer at Tam O'Shanter, Chicago's famous course. Money is thrown around like grass seed in both of the latter named tournaments.

On the board Wall was supposed to collect $10,000 for winning the Tournament of Champions last week. But in Las Vegas they would rather gamble than eat, in fact most people from that area eat by gambling—that is when they win. The tournament held on the Desert Inn course each year is no exception. It's a tourney in which the rich backers have a field day for a week. Bets are piled upon bets and when added to the rich Calcutta, it takes an adding machine or an Einstein to figure up money won and lost.

Wall won $10,000—at the very least. The Honesdale native was picked in the Calcutta by Wilbur Clark, owner of Desert Inn, the place where the tournament was played. Clark was able to purchase Wall's name for $2,500, or one of the lowest figures on the list. The resort owner saw his investment grow to $49,626. Walter Winchell reports that Clark's shares were so cut up that he actually collected only $5,500, which ain't bad for little physical exertion. It's not uncommon for the winning golfer to cut in on the swag picked up by the backer.

At Besselink, colorful pro who played many times at Shawnee Country Club while still in the amateur ranks, let it be known far and wide that he actually picked up $35,000 by winning the Tournament of Champions in 1953. Side bets, a portion of the backer's winning and the other little odds and ends can certainly increase the amount of the final take. Sammy Sneed's backer, Gordon Fairley, shelled out $20,000 for the privilege of backing the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. slammer. He says he'll pick Sam again next year.

Wall actually had plans to return to his home at Honesdale and no doubt spend a few days at Pocono Manor following his Las Vegas victory, but the PGA had other ideas. The PGA had given Art permission to withdraw from a San Francisco tournament, but tournament backers in that city screamed out loud and Wall was made to play. He also must play in the Ardmore, Okla., tournament in a few days. By winning the Tournament of Champions Wall has blossomed into a top rated attraction throughout the United States.

Wall's Wayne County friends had planned a big welcome home for their traveling hero, but had to change plans in the middle of the stream. Honesdale had scheduled a parade for Art Tuesday night, but the royal welcome had to be hung up to drive the Tournament of Champions to come home. Wall, who became the rage in Monroe and Wayne counties and is being talked about in all corners of the localities. He's drawing more attention than the first horseless buggy many years ago.

Art, who also is known as the "hole-in-one" champion among the pros and amateurs alike, began playing golf at the age of 12. At 13 he made the 10th flight and came up with his initial tournament victory. At 36, Wall is now the toast of the area as a pro. He picked up virtually every amateur title to be had in Wayne, Monroe, Luzerne and Lackawanna counties, before setting his sights on the pot of gold as a pro. The Honesdale native has been campaigning with the play for pay boys for four years and now is counted right up among the top membership. Art has carried something like 31 aces during his career.

Pocono Manor's traveling pro, who also has a connection with Wilson Sporting Goods Company, found the going rough for more than three years, finishing in the red virtually all the way. He led major tournaments for one and two rounds, but was never able to hang on through the late rounds. But, all the tough going is history and Art can direct the ball into the cup with his ancient putter, with the greatest degree of confidence. Wall's putter, a club that has drawn much comment recently, was presented to him by George Langendorfer, a Honesdale druggist, in the neighborhood of 10 years ago.

Las Vegas and the Tournament of Champions has a way of bringing the unknown into the line. Last year Besselink was a struggling pro, only two or three years out of the amateur ranks, until he visited the Nevada show place. Now Al is a big time pro on the staff at Grossinger's, one of New York State's finest resorts.

Stroudsburg Little League To Hold Tryout Sessions

Six Teams Prepare For New Campaign

Stroudsburg Little League made final plans for pre-season practice last night, during a regularly scheduled meeting of the circuit at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The circuit has listed Saturday as the opening of a three-day tryout period for boys in the eight to 12 age bracket. The initial tryout is scheduled for 10 a. m.

Another drill will take place next Wednesday, at 6 p. m., while the final tryout session is scheduled for

Circuit Needs Umpires

Bill Hawn, umpire-in-chief of the Stroudsburg Little League, is searching for umpires for the coming campaign. Any interested candidates are urged to contact Hawn or John R. Wilson, secretary of the circuit.

Saturday, May 8, at 10 a. m. All practices will take place at the Stroudsburg Little League field.

Each boy trying for a position on one of the six teams is urged to obtain a permission slip on Saturday. This slip is to be taken home and signed by his parents and returned no later than Saturday, May 8.

There are 90 positions open in the league this season as the circuit has jumped from four to six teams. There are 15 uniformed berths on each club. The teams to campaign this season are Peoples Coal Company, First Stroudsburg National Bank, Stroudsburg Security Trust Co., Penn-Stroud Hotel, Colonial Diner and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The next meeting of the league will take place at the Penn-Stroud Hotel on Monday, May 10. At this time the various boys will be placed on a team. At the present time none of the teams have players left over from last year, by order of the national Little League setup. Due to the addition of two clubs, the circuit is returning all players to the pool and all will be subject to draft on May 10.

There are several players who campaigned in the league last year who will be among the missing this season because of the age limit. The infield has been graded and seeded and new uniforms and equipment have been ordered. Several improvements have also been made on the field.

Monday, May 24, has been set aside as opening day, at which time Peoples Coal Company, defending champion, tangles with First Stroudsburg National Bank. The contest is slated to begin at 6:15 p. m.

All postponed games are to be played on Saturday in the order in which they appear on the schedule. T. Manning "Cap" Curtis, league president, was in charge of last night's meeting.

Cubs, Phillies May Deal

Chicago (AP)—Roy Hamey's observation after four close looks at the Philadelphia Phillies indicates he's caught onto their situation pretty fast.

"I'd say we need some good hitters," the Phils' new general manager told a reporter after post-game of yesterday's game with the Chicago Cubs.

Hamey has seen the Phils play four times since he left his position as assistant general manager of the New York Yankees. In the last three games—against the New York Giants—the Phils didn't score a single run.

Hamey talked privately with Wild Matthews, Cub personnel director, for an hour and a half yesterday and speculation arose that a trade was in the offing. The Cubs need a dependable relief pitcher—something the Phils could offer—and, as Hamey observed, the Phils could use some batting power—which abounds plenty in the Cub domain.

The Cubs have displayed tremendous muscle, although winning only four of nine games. They're batting .326 as a team and have totaled 21 homers and 73 runs.

Matthews, in exchange for a top-flight addition to the pitching staff, presumably could be talked into parting with steady .300 hitter Frank Baumholtz or long-ball man Bill Serena.

"We are vulnerable to the right kind of deal," said Matthews.

Giants Use Seventh Inning Spurt To Decision Braves

Milwaukee (AP)—The New York Giants lumped four of their seven hits in the seventh inning yesterday to chase Lew Burdette and beat the Milwaukee Braves, 3-1, in nippy 40-degree weather before a Ladies Day crowd of 13,308.

Giant starter Ruben Gomez angled with two on to score Monte Irvin with the first New York run and Al Dark cracked a double to right after "Whitey" Lockman had walked for two more to hang the season's second loss on Burdette in three starts.

Gomez left the game after scoring the Giants' final run. He was reported to have strained his back rounding third base on Dark's two-bagger. The Braves' lone run came off reliever Hoyt Wilhelm in the seventh. "Hank" Aaron doubled with one out and scored on Del Crandall's single to center.

Stroudsburg Speedway Plans To Launch Stock Car Racing Season Under Lights In May

Stroudsburg Speedway will open the 1954 stock car racing season on Saturday, May 22, it was announced last night by Pat Ciambrella, president of the Liberty Stock Car Association.

Liberty Stock Car Association, which featured a membership of over 400 drivers and owners last year, has leased the local half-mile speedway from Tom Garbar, owner. Liberty will promote and sanction each of the races held at Stroudsburg Speedway this season.

Racing will take place each Saturday until some time next fall. Ciambrella pointed out that a new lighting system is already under construction. There will be at least 80 lights, featuring 1,000 watt bulbs.

Weatherman Stops Action

Stroudsburg and Whitehall High schools were washed off the Lehigh Valley League baseball book for the second time in as many days yesterday. An all-day rain made play impossible.

The contest has been rescheduled for Monday, at 4 p. m., on the Whitehall field. Stroudsburg plays host to Slatington tomorrow at Gordon Giffels field.

Baseball Clinic Ends Today

East Stroudsburg Little League's clinic will close tonight following a workout on the East Stroudsburg Playground field. The drill is scheduled to begin at 6:15 p. m. Rain has cut the scheduled four-day affair in half, as workouts Tuesday and yesterday were washed off the books.

Over 100 candidates reported for Monday's clinic session.

Directors

Mike Jacobella, Jack Kist, Dick Forster and Del Davis, all coaches at East Stroudsburg High school, are running the clinic assisted by the various team managers.

The league held a meeting at Lloyd's Sporting Goods Store last night, at which time new equipment was ordered and various problems discussed.

Dr. Evan C. Reese, league president, was in charge of the business meeting.

Football To Baseball

Syracuse, N. Y. (AP)—Five members of the Syracuse University football team also play on the baseball squad. Ted Kukowski, Eddie Albright, Dick Darr, Paul Slick and Mickey Rich are the gridders on the diamond.

Additional Plans

Current plans also call for a new rail on the third and fourth turns and a complete whitewashing of the establishment before opening night. Other improvements are also under consideration at the present time.

Each of the Saturday night programs will feature three heats, a consolation grind and a 25-lap feature. The first race will be run promptly at 8:30 p. m.

New rules have been written into the Liberty Stock Car Association books this season, each instituted to expedite the racing program. Penalties will be inflicted for those drivers late in reporting and no repairs will be allowed on the track.

Liberty Stock Car Association is currently running at Pleasantville, N. J., and every Sunday afternoon at Nazareth.

Some of the top Liberty drivers are Fred Fehr, Joey Cryan, Chet Fehr, Ken Wismer, Jack and "Buddy" Burgstesser, Ray Fleming. There are many others who also appeared at Stroudsburg Speedway last summer.

Camera Eye Helps Hogan

Fort Worth—One of Ben Hogan's secrets—we are not saying the secret—is a camera eye. "I can walk into a room," the United States Open champion reveals, "and tell, at a glance, just how and where everything is arranged—or if a picture on the wall is even a fraction off line."

As with few other great athletes, in Hogan's case, the eyes have it. Ben possesses the vision which enables a "Babe" Ruth to read a license plate a block or so away, or a Ted Williams to wait until the last split second before he commits himself to hit a baseball travelling 90 miles an hour.

Two Lives

Not only does Hogan use that vision to make him the foremost golfer of the generation but now he has utilized it in another capacity, as a manufacturer of golf clubs. Although Ben is the most intensive single purpose competitor in sports, he has led a double life for the past two years as golfer extraordinary and alert business man heading the Ben Hogan Company, makers of golf clubs, shortly ready to complete production on their first golf club.

"We should have the first ones ready in early May," Hogan says.

Dodgers Bow To Cardinals In Tenth, 6-5

St. Louis (AP)—Pinch-runner Dick Schofield, setting himself in scoring position with a stolen base, raced home from second on a single to left by Steve Elko in the 10th inning to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 6-5 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday.

The Dodgers had tied the score at 5-5 in the ninth with pinch-runner "Sandy" Amoros sprinting in from first on "Duke" Snider's double to the left field corner. The hit came off Vic Raschi, the ex-New York Yankee who at the time was one out away from his first complete game as a National Leaguer.

Brooklyn touched Raschi for a run in the first on a walk to "Junior" Gilliam and a single to center by Snider. The Cards erased that lead in their half of the first, on a walk to Wally Moon, singles by "Red" Schoendienst and Tom Alston and a slashing double to the right field corner by Stan Musial.

Leadoff Bases

Brooklyn loaded the bases in the fifth before Roy Campanella sent what seemed to be a double play ball to Schoendienst. Schoendienst flipped to shortstop Alex Grammas for the force at second, but Grammas threw low to first, enabling two runs to score on the error.

The Cards tied it in their fifth with the help of a wild pitch by Erv Palca, who replaced Billy Loeb when Schoendienst dropped a leadoff single to left, and an error by "Peewee" Reese. Then "Rip" Repulski, Musial and Ray Jablonski accounted for two more runs in the sixth with singles.

In the eighth Gil Hodges parked his fifth home run of the season in the left field bleachers.

Pirates To Refund Money

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates' management said last night that because of the recent reduction in the federal tax on admissions, it will refund more than $30,000 to persons who bought season tickets prior to April 1.

About 1,000 checks will be mailed out. Refunds already have been made to purchasers of tickets for single games.

Display Advertising Copy DEADLINES

Advertising copy deadlines, just as news copy deadlines, are necessary . . . in fact, are imperative to the publication of a newspaper.

Enforcement of deadlines makes it possible to give readers a better newspaper, delivered on schedule. A better newspaper, promptly delivered to all sections of the trading area, means a better advertising medium.

It follows that adequate time for the proper handling of advertising copy, without interference with the mechanics of news production . . . and without jeopardizing the "on time" delivery of the newspaper . . . permits the better handling of advertising copy to work to the advantage of the advertiser in a better advertising medium.

In the interest of better serving ALL advertisers, all copy for display advertising, including classified display, must meet the following deadlines:

Monday Copy . . . . . 5 P. M. Friday
Tuesday Copy . . . . . 12 Noon Saturday
Wednesday Copy . . . . . 5 P. M. Monday
Thursday Copy . . . . . 5 P. M. Tuesday
Friday Copy . . . . . 5 P. M. Wednesday
Saturday Copy . . . . . 5 P. M. Thursday
(Holiday Intervening—3 P. M. 3 days before publication)

When Proof Is Required Prior To Publication of the Ad

The Deadline Is Noon
(Instead of 5 P. M.) on the days indicated above

New Officers Installed By Key Clubbers

Yesterday was Stroudsburg High School Key Club day at the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The newly-elected officers were inducted by Arlington W. Williams, past president of Kiwanis. Twenty-one Key Clubbers were guests at the meeting.

The new officers are: President, Richard Hintze; vice president, Alan Strassman; secretary, Dan Neidorff, and treasurer, Thomas I. Metzgar Jr.

Key Club officers are elected toward the close of the current school term and assume their duties at the beginning of the Fall term.

Key Clubs are composed of high school sophomores, juniors and seniors. Directors will be chosen in the Fall after the new members are chosen.

Numa J. Snyder, the Key Club adviser, presented Dick Shuster, incumbent president, who had charge of the program, after the boys had been welcomed by Dr. C. W. Dupee, Kiwanis president.

Mickey Michelfelder and Tommy Metzgar entertained with trumpet solo and Shuster was heard in a saxophone number with Snyder as accompanist.

Reports on phases of the annual convention of the Pennsylvania District Key Clubs, held at Allentown last weekend, were given by Hintze, Strassman and Metzgar, who were in the local delegation.

Snyder also spoke bringing out various phases of his impression of the Allentown convention and the need of cooperation between Kiwanis and the Key Club, which will enter on its third year in the fall.

Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club led the 17th division of Pennsylvania district for February. This was recognized by the stunt committee, Jere Stoffel, chairman.

President Dupee was invested with a sweater with "manager" on the front and A. F. Everitt, secretary, as "coach." Special songs were sung causing much amusement.

The club recognized United States-Canada Good Will Week which is being observed this week.

George T. Robinson read the greetings from the Canadian Prime minister and Alan W. Keiper, those from President Dwight D. Eisenhower to Donald T. Forsythe, Kiwanis International president, on the friendly relations between the two nations and recognition of agreement for no fortifications at the borders. Dr. L. J. Koehler explained the latter.

Dr. Earl Willhoite led the singing with Snyder at the piano. S. L. Neidorff, whose son is a Key Club officer, was welcomed as a guest.

The monthly meeting of the officers and directors will be held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel next Monday at 5 p.m.

M. Smithfield Music Groups Give Program

Echo Lake — Middle Smithfield school presented "One Night of Rhythm" last night in the school auditorium.

Under direction of Andrew W. Weingartner, the school band and smaller groups from individual classes presented concert arrangements of several tunes.

The school band played "America," "Our School March," "Rifle Regiment March," "Three Little Pigs (comedy sketch)," "Poet and Peasant Overture," "Junior Band March" and "America, the Beautiful."

A rhythm band from grades one and two and a flutophone ensemble from grades three and four also appeared.

The girls glee club sang three tunes: "April Showers," "Juanita" and "A Simple Melody." The ensemble was heard in four selections: "Our Melody," "Blue Bells of Scotland," "Sleep, Baby, Sleep" and a selection from "Hansel and Gretel," the opera.

Teachers taking part were Joseph Kulick, principal; Mrs. Emily Carter, Mrs. Elsie LaBar, Glenn Wallingford, and three student teachers.

Church To Mark Chest Sunday

Bartonville — May 2 has been designated Jehoiada Chest Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church.

Pastor John B. Bergstresser instituted this scriptural means of raising money for the church repairs at St. John's in March in an effort to get sufficient funds for the purchase of a new furnace for the church building.

Thus far almost seventy dollars has been collected by this method.

A 209 Motorist
Stroudsburg, Pa.
April 26, 1954

Mr. Horace Heller
Editor of The Daily Record

Dear Sir:

You are to be congratulated for the editorial that appeared in The Daily Record the issue of April 21. It not only sums up the Monroe County road requirements but it also leaves no doubts in the voter's mind regarding the ballot, after they have been sold out by the "Fine" administration as we certainly have.

Speaking before the Pocono Mountains Motor Club on April 20, Mr. Boyer discussing the status of the 611 by-pass around Stroudsburg to 9th Street said, "It looks like the best remedy to the traffic problems in Stroudsburg."

In a previous letter I said that perhaps the condemnation of property South of 9th Street might make a difference. I think it would make interesting reading to have it stated in this paper by the commissioners as to how much it will cost the people of Monroe County for that right of way and what properties would be involved. I wonder how much "Economy" exists in this route.

There certainly can be no doubt in the minds of the people, that there could be any improvement in traffic by moving the bottleneck from 7th to 9th Street. It is impossible to have a traffic interchange at the intersection of 611 and 209 at 9th Street, so the old "bottleneck," a traffic light must remain.

It is true that a by-pass over Godfrey's Ridge crossing 209 in the vicinity of Rinehart's Diner and then over to 611 would involve more money. It is the logical path for the by-pass and any money spent on it would be an investment, but the by-pass from South Stroudsburg to 9th Street will never be anything but a complete waste of money. This is very typical of the "Fine" Administration appeasement policy.

In another statement to the Pocono Mountains Motor Club, Mr. Boyer said that the highway department is modernizing 209 West of Stroudsburg by making it three lanes at some points and giving it a top dressing. Route 209 West of Stroudsburg carries more traffic than any other road in or out of Stroudsburg including 611 running north out of Stroudsburg. This is one of the poorest two lane "Rollercoasters" in the county. It is a disgrace for modern highways.

If the highway department wishes to modernize Route 209 running West of Stroudsburg, why don't they cut the tops off the hills and fill in the valleys. How can a modern highway exist with a bad curve such as "Dead Man's Curve."

This road could be leveled and this curve removed without excessive costs. Any money spent on this "Rollercoaster" is a complete loss.

Senator Crowe has done a very excellent job for the county, but what has happened to our Representative Mr. Shotwell? What has he done regarding these highway propositions? Where is his influence or doesn't he wish to exercise it. Perhaps if he did use some influence for the people of Monroe County he might lose his friendship with the "Fine" administration.

Incidentally, he voted against every labor measure that came up. I hope the people of Monroe County will remember these things when they cast their ballots in the coming election.

Yours truly,
A 209 Motorist.

Mother's Day Class To Join Eagles May 4

A class of 20 candidates will be initiated at a special Mother's Day program at Stroudsburg Eagles next Tuesday night.

A. T. Williams, Bethlehem, state president of the order will be the chief speaker.

The degree team of Leighton Eagles will conduct the initiatory ceremonies. Lunch will be served.

Eagles observe Mother's Day on a national scale. The organization was the leader in having Mother's Day designated by federal legislation.

All such programs are dedicated to mothers of the membership.

This year's observance is held on a regular meeting night, instead of the usual Sunday meeting, to permit members to spend Sunday with their family.

Country Doctor Pioneered Jointure Of Greene-Dreher School Districts

By Robert Staph

Newfoundland—Many individuals contribute to the growth of the Greene-Dreher community, persons who will be remembered for the vision and leadership in community affairs. But when it comes to the development of the school system, there is one individual among all others who stood out as the leader in developing the system to its present state.

He was the late Dr. Arthur J. Simons, a descendant of the early Simons settlers, who came to the area as early as 1809. Born in 1858, Dr. Simons received his education in the Bloomsburg State Normal School and Jefferson Medical College. He spent the remainder of his life practicing medicine and crusading for better educational facilities in this area.

Elected to the school board shortly after he took up his life's work here, he served as secretary and president of that group until his death in 1925. His long-range planning is credited with bringing about the Greene-Dreher jointure, among the first in Pennsylvania's history and the initial attempt to unite two districts across county lines.

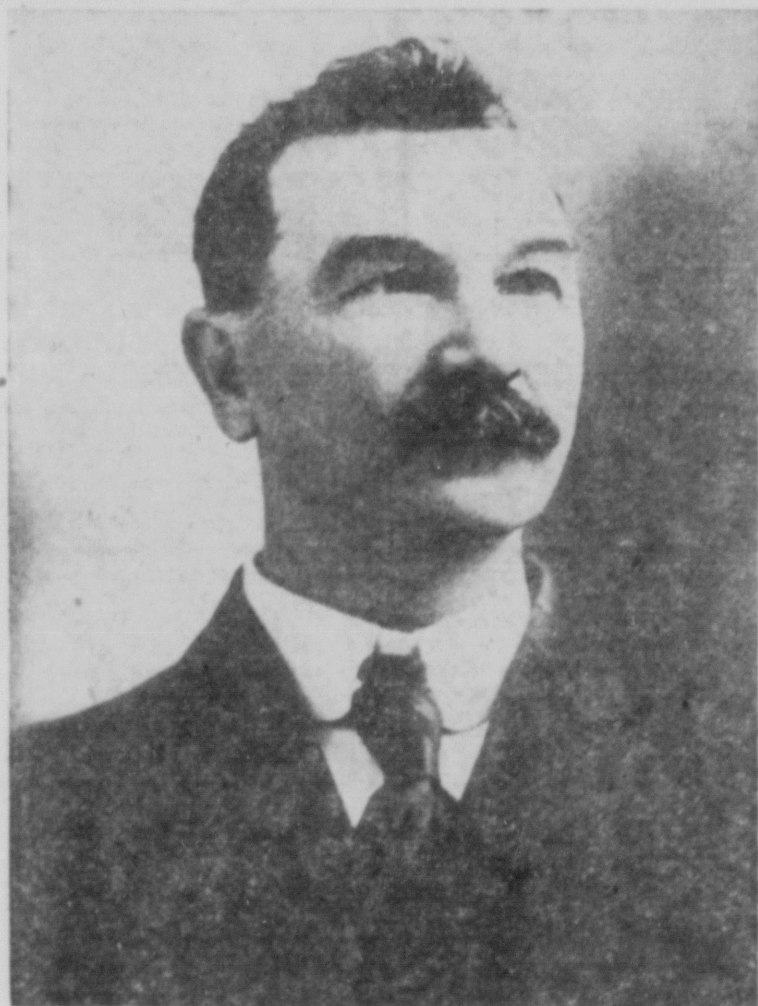

Speaking at the dedication of a memorial plaque to the doctor here in 1951, Joseph Jacobs, supervising principal of the local school who began his long career in education during Dr. Simons' tenure on the board, said:

"Dr. Simons was the exemplification of the typical country doctor. He was a kind man, had a sympathetic understanding of his fellow-man, possessed an almost uncanny ability to foresee the future and maintained a keen sense of loyalty, both to his profession and to his community."

In the summer of 1915, Dr. Simons learned that the Legislature of that year had provided funds for the establishment of what were to be known "rural community vocational schools." Being a staunch advocate of the need of practical education and sensing that this was the opportunity to provide a school far better than could be hoped for with the limited resources of this area, the doctor began a concerted effort to have this new type organization set up here.

At the same time, Mrs. Agnes Hopps Wallick, principal of the Barrett Township High School, was attending summer school at Penn State College, where she heard L. H. Dennis, who later became the first director of vocational education in the State, explain the plan. Enthusiastic about this type of education, she was assured that there would be sufficient funds in the budget for 1916 to provide for a school of this type in her area.

Her board of education was not convinced, however, and Dr. Simons immediately invited Mr. Dennis to come to Newfoundland and discuss the matter with his board. Upon his arrival, Mr. Dennis was quick to point out that this was too large a project for Dreher

Late Dr. Arthur J. Simons

Township to take on singly and suggested that Greene Township be invited to form a joint district.

The two boards sat in session for the first time on August 31, 1916. They accepted the plans as presented by the State Bureau of Vocational Education, under which state aid is granted for joint vocational schools. They agreed "to establish and maintain a joint vocational school according to the laws of Pennsylvania, a school to be known as the 'Greene-Dreher Community Vocational School'"; the contract to remain in force for ten years unless terminated by mutual agreement.

Immediately, alterations were started on the school building, which had been built in 1909. It was raised about three feet to make room for the new agriculture department and inasmuch as there was no room in the building for the home economics department, arrangements were made for temporary quarters in a near-by store building.

The vocational school, which was only the second organized in the State, was under close scrutiny of Pennsylvania officials. Its success gave the program impetus and by 1926 there were over 60 like organizations in the State.

With the joint school established and functioning satisfactorily, Dr. Simons and his colleagues—there were nine now—bent their efforts in the direction of consolidation of one-room schools and planning for the day when the elementary

Following a resolution to the effect "that it is the sentiment of the Greene-Dreher School board to consolidate the elementary schools of Greene and Dreher Townships", the board began a campaign to enlighten the taxpayers as to their plans. A pamphlet was published and circulated in October, 1924, explaining the financial implications of the proposed building program and giving the local residents an objective picture of the situation.

The 1916 jointure was dissolved on March 24, 1925 and a new agreement was entered upon, calling for the consolidation of all schools in the two districts. In order to meet

Schaible's Bakery Proudly Celebrates

70 YEARS OF FINE BAKING

Schaible's Bakery
Founded

Folks ate Schaible's Bread by gaslight the year our bakery was founded—and how they loved the flavor of those fresh-baked loaves. More and more mothers stopped baking bread at home because Schaible's bread was so "home-baked" good. The very first loaf—and every loaf down through the years—has always been baked with the very finest ingredients money could buy.

1944

introduced to all our friends

You may remember the wonderful bread news in 1944 when this lovable little blue-eyed girl presented Schaible's Sunbeam Bread for the first time. Here was a new bread recipe and a new loaf, more delicious and tender than ever before, that changed the bread-buying habits of thousands—and Miss Sunbeam is making more new friends every day!

1954

Our 10th Anniversary of Sunbeam Bread

After ten years of baking Sunbeam Bread for you, we asked ourselves if there was any way we could possibly bake it better. We mixed and fussed and tested, and we'd like to report that if there's a way to bake bread fresher or more flavorful or finer-textured, we don't know it! (And after 70 years we ought to know.) So "Thanks!" for reaching for Sunbeam. You're taking home the best there is—and that's a fact!

Team Ties For Second In Contest

Newfoundland—A parliamentary procedure team, representing the Greene-Dreher chapter of the Future Farmers of America, finished in a tie for second place in a recent contest conducted at Tunkhannock.

Eight teams participated in the contest. These teams represented FFA chapters in 15 counties of northeastern Pennsylvania and each had placed first in preliminary contests held in their respective vocational agriculture areas.

Scott FFA was the winner with a total score of 261 points. The Greene-Dreher team tied with Tunkhannock with 253 points.

In the competition, each team is required to conduct a 20-minute business session and must present and process three distinct items of business during that period. Three changes in presiding officers must also be made during the team's tenure.

Selected members of the opposing teams, known as "quizzers," attempt to disrupt the orderly procedure by various means, their success or failure being the basis of the scoring.

The Greene-Dreher team was composed of Richard Muller, president; James Campbell, vice president; Arthur Frey, secretary; David Heberling, treasurer; Lee Mead, reporter; Donald Frick, sentinel; Lawrence Caruth, adviser.

Clayton F. Northrup, teacher of vocational agriculture at the local school, was the team's instructor.

Treasury Position

Washington (AP)—The cash position of the Treasury April 26: Balance $4,047,208,546.41. Deposits $55,209,475,248.45. Withdrawals $58,139,993,196.05. Total debt $269,870,385,366.26. Gold assets $21,967,458,285.61.

About 73 per cent of U.S. widows live in urban areas compared with about 70 per cent of single women and 66 per cent of married women.

Completion Of Project Announced

Porters Lake — Completion of work in the Civic Improvement Association kitchen was announced here this week by Robert Collins.

Collins announced D. Katz and Sons of Stroudsburg donated all plumbing materials for the new kitchen, and said labor was provided without charge by himself and Ed Gilvey of Tannersville.

Bill Mechleib, president, was in charge. Reports were by Helen Young, secretary and Elizabeth Ernst, treasurer. Hostesses were Helen Young and Jennie Mack.

During the social hour refreshments were served and games played. Prizes went to Kate Narr, Marshalls Creek; Alfred Fritz, Blooming Grove; Mechleib, Irene Foreman, Art Weaver, of Lake Minisink.

Special guests included Woodrow Frable and sons Richard and Albert, of Bethlehem; Mrs. Kate Carr, Marshalls Creek; William Bradshaw, Philadelphia and Collins.

A covered dish supper will be served at the next meeting May 25. Marge Clark has been named chairman of the meeting, the last of the season.

Country Doctor Pioneered Jointure

(Continued from Page Thirteen) their obligations in the proposed building program, the Dreher directors had to ask the voters of the township to allow an indebtedness in excess of the statutory seven percent.

A special election was held on April 28, 1925. Result: for increase in indebtedness, 127; against, five.

All obstacles overcome, the joint board won the approval of the State to construct an eight-room elementary school building, construction was begun in June and completed in time for the Fall opening of school.

Dr. Simons never actually saw the fruits of his long years of labor—a modern school for the youth of his native area. He had passed away early in February, 1925.

Mount Pocono

Mrs. Louis C. Ingersoll
Phone Mt. Pocono 6841

Mrs. Frank Bishong and daughter, Miss Cora Bishong, spent the Easter weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bishong and family in West Pittston.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swan, of Stroudsburg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George DeHaven over the Easter season.

Mrs. Margaret Riehl, of Dunmore, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Sutton for several days.

Mrs. Ray Simmons is visiting her parents, at Home, Pa., and with other relatives at Indiana, Pa.

Ivory Nelson, of Gloversville, N. Y., a former resident of this place, greeted friends here on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Miller and family were the guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Milton Miller, of Phoenixville, on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Serfass entertained at a family dinner on Easter Sunday. Children present were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Serfass, of Washington, D.C., Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Babcock and daughter, Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fedish and son Charles Jr., of Tannersville and Mr. and Mrs. Burritt Serfass and children Tommy, Barbara Joe, James and John, of Swiftwater.

Leslie Jeanne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Toms of Stroudsburg, was baptized on Easter Sunday by the Rev. Roger Stinson in the Methodist Church. Mrs. Toms is the former Joan Cruse of here. The couple also has a son, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cruse, the maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. David Toms Sr., paternal grandparents, were present at the baptism.

Cpl. and Mrs. Carson Overgard, daughter Lee and son James were guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Lydia Christian of Danville over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cruse entertained at a family dinner on Sunday their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee, of Stroudsburg, Mrs. Ella Fikentscher and Mrs. Mildred Schutt.

Mrs. Jean O'Neill, of New York City, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wagner entertained their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edmundson, of Stroudsburg, Easter weekend.

Miss Marjorie Bly and brother Lawrence have moved to the borough and are occupying the bungalow of Mrs. Cassie Gilpin.

Mrs. Elizabeth Crossman, of Bethlehem, who has been a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher for the past several weeks, has returned to her home accompanied by Harry Stiff and G. V. Gearhart.

Cancer Drive Under Way In Pines Region

Pocono Pines — The Cancer drive is being held in this section this week.

Workers listed for the Pocono Pines-Pocono Lake area are Mrs. Marian Altmore, Miss Martha Bonser, Mrs. Ruth Dunlap, Mrs. Eleanor Durland, Mrs. Ruth Elias, Rev. John Gangware, Mrs. James Kitchen, Mrs. Elida Murphy, Miss Edna Louise Schader, Mrs. Edna Shaffer and Mrs. Helen Witt.

In conjunction with the cancer drive the chest X-ray registration ships are being distributed. It is urged that every member of the community take advantage of this free chest X-ray.

The mobile unit will be at the school here from 2:30 to 6:30 p. m. Anyone needing transportation to the school for the X-ray should advise the worker who calls on them with the registration card, or call Mrs. James Kitchen.

Cherry Lane

Mrs. William Clugston

Mrs. Stanley Hartman entertained the members of the Cherry Lane Methodist Church choir at her home on Thursday night, April 22, assisted by her daughters, Miss Pat Hartman and Mrs. Robert Repsher Jr. After a short rehearsal, games were played and a fine social evening enjoyed. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening to Mrs. Helen Shaffer and daughters Janet and Nancy, Mrs. Ruth Bird, Evelyn and Thelma Kane, Bobby Bush and the hosts.

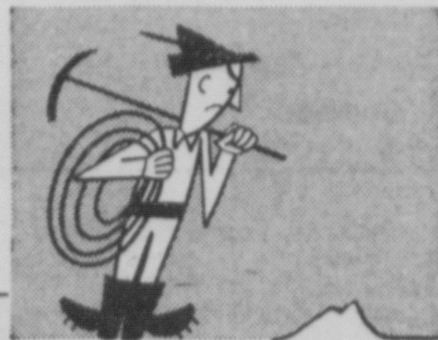

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Dreiss and son Michael, of Union City, N. J., were guests of Mrs. Julius Hauser and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Shaffer and family one day during the pre-Easter season.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Sciver have been receiving congratulations over the birth of their son, on Easter Sunday, who has been named Jonathan Stowe Van Sciver. Stowe is a family name, Mr. Van Sciver's great-grandmother, a Mrs. William (Stowe) Van Sciver, having been born in Scotland at Stowe Manor. The Stowe family were the re-casters of the Liberty Bell. The Dutch Bulb Gardens of the Van Scivers is now ablaze with spring bulbs and will be a source of much enjoyment to all who visit them.

The premises at Camp Tanalo have been improved by the removal of debris resulting from recent barn fire and also by the building of additional roads on part of the property, in anticipation of the coming season.

The newly finished bungalow home of the Mohr family, overlooking Lake Tanalo, has been landscaped by the leveling of the lawn and other improvements. Meadowbrook Manor Riding Farm has been further enhanced by the building of a new fence along the roadside towards Meisertown.

Julia Parth over the weekend were her sister and brother, Miss Linda and Albert Stachle, of New York, and Miss Katherine O'Neill, of Irvington, N. J.

Two Girls Receive Awards For Writing Winning Essays

Presentation of awards to two Monroe County high school students for their winning entries in the National Employ the Handicapped essay contest for Monroe and Pike Counties took place at Stroudsburg High School yesterday.

First prize of $15 was won by Shelby Carter, daughter of Mrs. Doris Carter, 714 Sarah St., Stroudsburg. Second place, $10, went to Joan Noone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Noone, Canadensis.

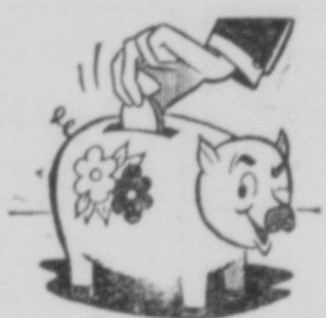

Miss Carter, senior at Stroudsburg High School, was selected for the best essay on "The Physically Handicapped—Competent Dependable Workers." Miss Noone, the runner-up, is a junior in Barrett Township High School.

Awards were presented by Louis F. Leffler, representing the Manufacturers Association of Monroe County, donors of the cash awards. Also present were Jack Muschok of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service office, East Stroudsburg, and secretary of the Pocono Mountains Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, and Earl F. Groner, superintendent of Stroudsburg schools.

Local winners were entered in the state-wide contest which was won by Margaret Mathauer, Holy Child Academy, Sharon Hill. She received $200 in U. S. Savings Bonds and is competing for $2,000 in national prizes.

Other State winners, selected by the Governor's Committee, are Edward Mihalik, Ambridge; Kathryn Louise Riffe, McClellantown; John C. Kellow, Pen Argyl, and Phyllis Megargel, Hawley.

All five State winners will receive certificates of merit signed by the President of the U. S. in addition to their Savings Bonds. They will be presented by Gov. John S. Fine at a luncheon meeting in Harrisburg on May 11.

IS THERE A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE? He's badly needed during this crucial scene in "The Visitor", the three-act melodrama which will be presented tonight and Friday night in State Teachers College auditorium by the college dramatics club and fraternity. Principals in the scene shown here are Tom Spillane, Sandra Fees, Larry B. Kieck, Phil O'Neill, Arlene Cornell and John Martin. Sue Ackerman, who has just passed out, is being checked over by Don Harding, whose sinister goings-on are at the bottom of the play's suspense. (Daily Record Photo)

College Cast To Give First Performance Of Play Tonight

"The Visitor," a three-act suspense melodrama will be given its first performance tonight in State Teachers College auditorium. The play is being presented by Mask and Zany, college dramatic club and the dramatic fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega. Faculty director is Ralph Smith.

Sue Ackerman plays the part of Judith Cunningham. She has had previous roles in "You Can't Take It With You" and "Goodbye My Fancy." Larry Kieck is Judith's shiftless brother. Kieck has also appeared in "Silver Whistle," "You Can't Take It With You" and this year's first production, "Petticoat Fever."

Tom Spillane, a freshman who appeared in the leading role in "Petticoat Fever," is cast as the love interest in "The Visitor." Don Harding plays the stepfather. He has also appeared in "Whistle," "Fancy" and "Take It With You."

Other members of the cast include Sandra Fees, Phil O'Neill and Arlene Cornell. Jeanne Luckenbill is stage manager and Barbara LeRoy is the student director.

Headling committees are the following: Kathy Mertz, costumes; Gil Lutz, lighting; LaLue Fenstermaker, makeup; Elaine Smith and Sue Hopely, programs; John Charlton, properties; Stab Gross and Barbara Baatz, publicity; Lila Ritchie, scenic design; Ron Alshaker, sound; Joy Swartley, tickets; Emma Jane Dotter, typist; Joan Sabatini, ushers; John Chamberlain, workshop and stage crew.

Tickets will be on sale tonight at the auditorium box office.
